Arms Academy Annual

— 1942 —

Editor's Foreword

The Arms STUDENT Board invites you to read the log which we have kept during our cruise through Arms. We know that this cruise has been much smoother sailing than will be the voyage on which we are now embarking—our voyage over the uncertain waters of life.

Jeanne Fontaine

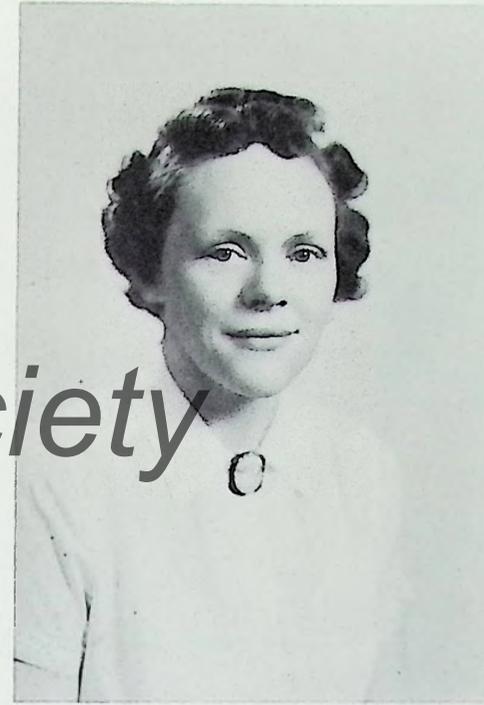

Shelburne Historical Society

Principal's Message

The "log" to which our Editor refers will be more and more interesting to look back to as the years go by, because it is very improbable that there will ever be another just like it. The work of the Academy is already being modified for the great war effort, and it will be changed more next year and the next after that. Furthermore, it is not to be expected that the schools of the country will ever revert to just what they are now; we hope that they will be better and stronger after this terrific experience.

There seems to be a note of calm courage in the Editor's anticipation of a rough voyage. No classes were ever launched on a stormier one than those which graduate in 1942. Although these troubles are due to no fault of theirs, they are facing them with a fortitude that demands our admiration and respect.

T. W. Watkins

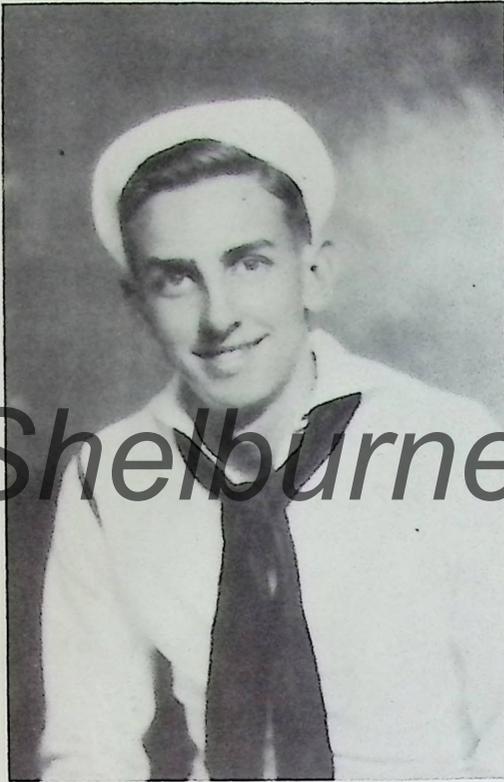

DEDICATION

Gracia M. Burkill

..... In appreciation of her faithful work and friendly spirit during both stormy and bright weather, we dedicate this log to Miss Burkill, a favorite member of the crew during the cruise of 1942.

Our Pal — Our Hero

(The Sailor - Soldier - Flier - Marine)

I could not speak the other day,
 Because the voice was dumb,
 And only now I'll try to write
 Those words that would not come.
 When all the bitter tears are dried
 Some time when I'm alone,
 I'll find a calm to those denied
 Who never grief have known.
 I know the hurt's still keen today,
 I know the loss is great
 But what if we should go Away
 With no one there to wait?
 And Oh! how lonely heaven would be
 If all we loved were here,
 And there was no pal we longed to see
 To welcome us up there.

If God had spared us every blow
 Which comes to all on earth,
 Had shielded us from every woe,
 And filled our years with mirth,
 And then at last He bade us leave
 Our place above to find,
 Throughout eternity we'd grieve
 For those we left behind.
 Oh! we have had a dandy pal
 And, too, have lost a friend,
 But soon we shall be reconciled
 When this brief life shall end,
 For heaven is made of those we love,
 The heroes — our best, you see,
 And God has taken him above
 To build a heaven for you and me.

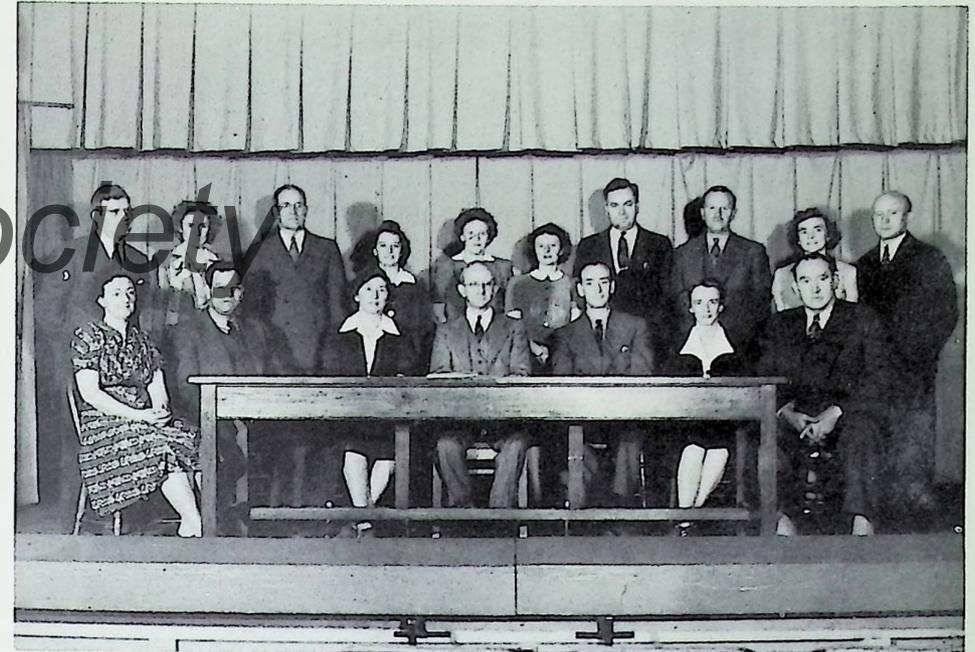

— Clinton Wells, '43

Student Council

The Student Council, which acts as a means of contact between the faculty and student body, this year elected Everett Coutu, president, Gloria Lunardi vice-president, and Dolores Putnam secretary. Other members include Jeanne Fontaine, Janette Peters, Alice Brown, Virginia Crafts, Diane Waste, Phyllis Joyce, Harold Manners, James DuBois, Earle Lowell, Joseph Tetreault, Joseph Giguere, Lionel Galipo, Howard Binder, and Mr. Watkins, faculty adviser. Discussions at the regular Friday meetings of the council, centered around school life and the various outside activities. The council, an organization worthy of recognition and praise, upholds the traditions of democracy so long honored by students at Arms Academy.

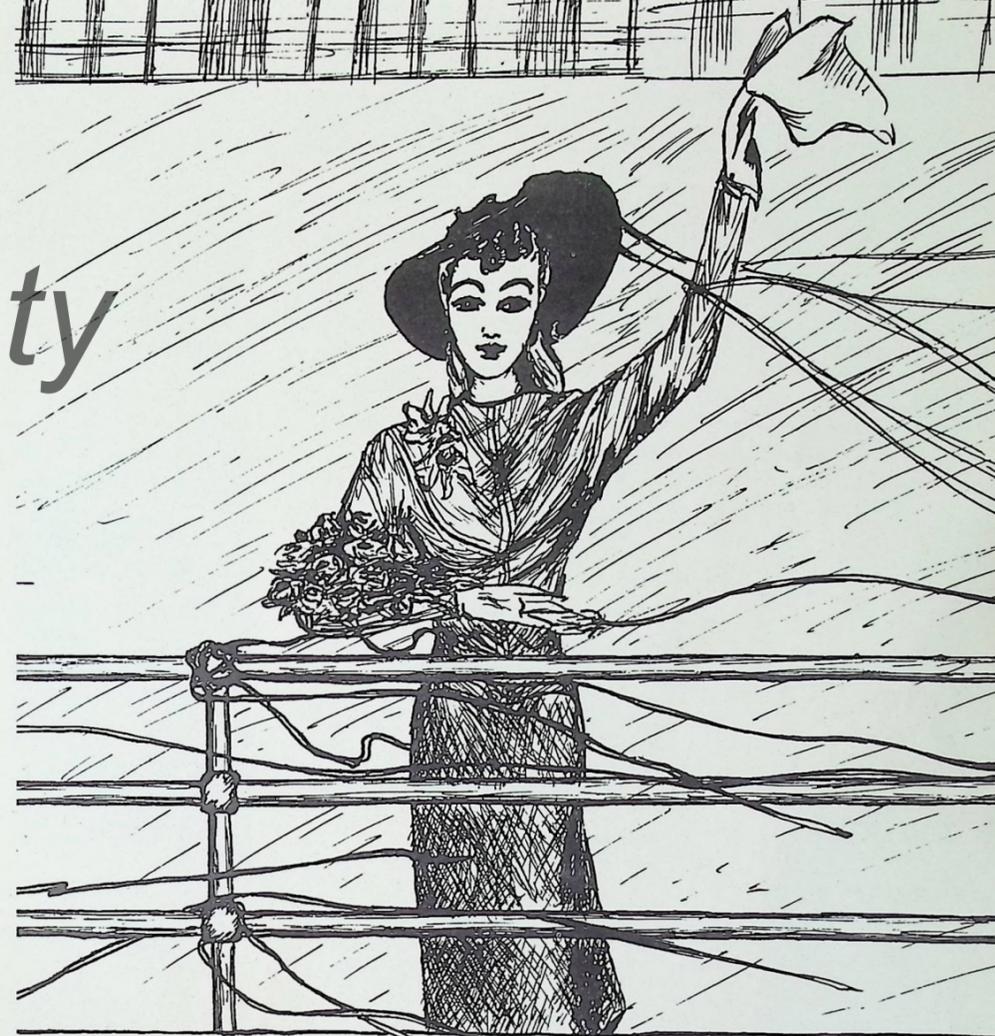

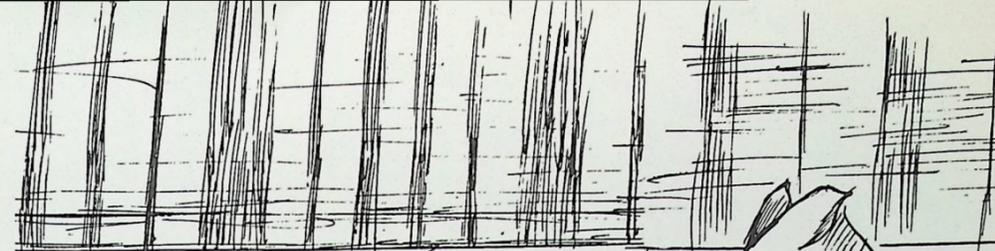

Arms Academy Student Assoc.

For the year 1941-1942 the following students were elected to office in the Arms Academy Students' Association: Joseph Giguere, president; Richard Long, vice president; Martha Stone, secretary; John Fitzgerald, treasurer; Dolores Putnam and Earle Lowell, representatives to Student Council.

This year the association sponsored all athletics; Pro Merito Society; Student Council; all dramatics (except the Senior play); Junior Prize Speaking; Sentinel; Student; Freshman Reception; musical organizations; the sale of ice cream, candy, pencils, and pennants; and the transportation of the athletic teams.

The dues were raised from one dollar to one dollar and a half this year to meet increased expenses. Every student in school is eligible for membership in this association.

FIRST CLASS PASSENGERS

December
Virginia Ruth Amidon
November 11, 1924 Greenfield

General
"Bubbling over with joy."
Since "Jinny" landed here from up "North" she has made many friends, but woe be unto the poor pupil who forgets his library book. It's nice to have library duty during home room period, isn't it, Jinny? We hear she is exceptionally handy with a broom, ask the town officials.

Clayton John Barry
June 27, 1924 Colrain

Commercial
"In arguing too, Barry owned his skill. For even though vanquished he could argue still."

Don't turn around, that hearty roll of laughter can belong to only one person— "Claytie." We would like to know where he gets his arguing abilities. Clayton is an ardent member of the "Gum Chewers Club." He's a swell sport and a fine worker, and we give him our best wishes for the future.

Virginia Lee Beader
May 18, 1925 Denver, Colorado

Commercial
"Thy modesty's a candle to thy merit."
Virginia is a rather little-known student. Although "Gini" hasn't been here very long, she has shown her abilities to the extent of becoming a member of the select Pro Merito Society. She plays a good game of basketball, too. There is cheerfulness in her smile—watch her dimples.

Arthur William Brown
February 24, 1924 Buckland

College
"I dare do all that may become a man."
Know "Brownie"? You don't! Why, he's our A-1 "joke-giver-outer." Everyone knows that he can get away with murder with that charming come-hither smile which he is continually flashing around Arms. Brownie's no giant, he's big enough to captain the baseball team.

Raymond Walter Burdick
August 20, 1925 Florida

Commercial
"Quiet and unassuming,
Yet always a good fellow."
"Ray" is a quiet fellow who hails from Hoosac Tunnel way, and just let anybody say anything about that part of the country, and he has Ray down his neck. Ray is a valuable member of the Commercial Department and holds his own with the best of them. He likes to hunt and fish and plans to be an electrical engineer. Here's to the future, Ray!

Lucille Leone Burnap
October 26, 1924 Greenfield

College
"We are never so happy or so unhappy as we suppose."
Want to know the words of the latest song hit? Ask Lucille. She knows them all, even the old ones, as anyone on the girls' basketball team can testify. She is interested in sports and was a reliable forward of the varsity squad. Fun-loving and friendly, "Lu" has gained many friends here at Arms.

December
Calvin Merriam Clark
March 27, 1924 Shelburne

Shop
"Mechanic slaves with greasy aprons, rules, and hammers."
"Cal" is one of our shop boys who managed the backstage for our senior play, "Little Women." We know the library is very fascinating during the extra period, Cal, but we have to get a book once in a while. He wants to be an airplane mechanic and will, undoubtedly, become one soon.

Charles Callender Clark
November 24, 1922 Shelburne

Shop
"My tongue within my lips, I rein,
For who talks must talk in vain."
"Charlie" is a rather quiet member of our shop department. He has been on the Sentinel staff for two years and on the Student for one. He likes wood-carving and electricity, so if you need anything done to your electrical appliances call on "Charlie."

Everett Marshall Coutu
May 17, 1923 Greenfield

Shop
"An athlete has power inborn and courage to carry on."
Everett is one of the outstanding football players of our class. He crashed the varsity team during his freshman year, and has kept that standing ever since. He was co-captain during his senior year. Shakespeare has created quite an impression on Everett. Hunting and fishing are among his favorite sports.

Edna Fedora Cummings
September 28, 1924 Conway

Commercial
"She's never haughty, never proud,
But, popular in every crowd."
Who giggled? That's "Ed," our class historian. She is one of the prize basket-shooters on our class team. Edna very successfully played the role of Meg in "Little Women." She wants to travel, and we know she will. As she travels, she can add a few coins to her collection.

Howard Edwin Dickinson
December 10, 1923 Heath

Shop
"I would help others, out of a fellow-feeling."
The proper and correct method of addressing Howard Dickinson is "Hey! Howard!" Dick comes down from those Heath hills in the latest model 1930 Chrysler. He has also been seen driving a pretty nifty little model "T" Ford. Dick is interested in photography and machines, and he wants to have his own metal lathe in the future.

James Ensign DuBois
May 25, 1924 Winnipeg, Canada

General
"Great oaks from little acorns grow."
He is so-o-o tall! "Jimmie" is the "long" part of the "long and short" of Arms Academy. He is our class president, and has been in a number of plays. "DuBois" is always in the know when it comes to the latest song hits. When you see DuBois usually you see "Pyfrom."

Barbara Alice Dwight
November 29, 1924 Colrain

General
"Blue were her eyes as the fairy-flax."
"Bobby" can be best described by her bright blue eyes, ready smile, and her ever-present mischief. She will always be remembered as the doting Aunt March in "Little Women." She likes to collect photos, and plays the piano. Some day Bobby will realize her ambition to be an aviatrix.

Alan Clifton Finck
May 6, 1924 Buckland

Shop
"Actions speak louder than words."
"Finckie" is one of our more silent shop boys as was demonstrated quite a few times this fall when he was co-captain of the football team. He is a four-letter man in sports and can always be counted on to do his bit toward winning.

John Allen Fitzgerald
May 12, 1924 Greenfield

Commercial
"We go to use our hands, not our tongues."
We remember John at first as a quiet chap who could and did concentrate on his studies, no matter what was going on around him. Later when we got to know him we found he was a regular fellow. He was outstanding in scholarship and dramatics alike. Although John was a leader in his class, he felt that Uncle Sam needed him in his Navy — much to Nipponese discomfort.

Evalyn Nesbit Fitzroy
September 3, 1924 Adams

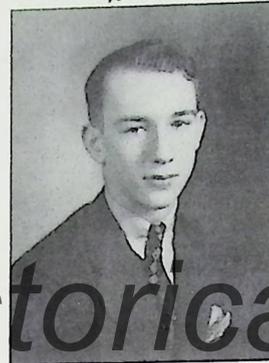

Commercial
"Sometimes grave,
Sometimes gay,
But we like her anyway."
Who's that riding the horse? That's "Fitzie," who likes horses in spite of the fact that she was given a mean spill by one. She's also an ardent beano fan—at least she walked away with the jack pot at the fair. She has made a name for herself as a typist and bangs the keys for the Sentinel and Student. She intends to bang keys for a living, too—as a reporter.

Jeanne Elizabeth Fontaine
November 28, 1924 Framingham

College
"Ready, Willing, and Able."
Who's that giggling? Oh, that's just Jeanne. She is our very busiest Senior, with being editor-in-chief of the Student and formerly of the Sentinel. She is active in sports and has all A's. Do you wonder that she can never be found when she is most needed?

Alice Madeleine Forgette
February 26, 1924 Burlington, Vermont

Commercial
"Her hair was not more sunny than her heart."
Up from the wilds of Conway every morning comes "Skipper," the class farmerette. Her favorite pastime is "jagging" around in The truck, and we do mean "jagging." Of course she may have to pay for a new fender now and then—Pro Merito, square dances, and a few other things ??? have kept her busy, and her role as Marmee in "Little Women" helped make the Senior Play a success.

Marie Florence Irene Giard
May 13, 1924 Lawrence

General
"Speech is silver
Silence is golden."
Irene is one of our girls from Adamsville. 'Tis said that she is planning to be a nurse, and we are sure that she will make a very good one. Irene proved that she is gifted in a literary way when she won fourth place in a state-wide Essay Contest. Best of luck, Irene.

Joseph Arthur Giguere
March 28, 1924 Colrain

Commercial
"All great men are dead, and I am not feeling well."
"Joe" is our clarinet virtuoso. He has a knack for meeting people, "preferably girls." He will be remembered as the happy-go-lucky Laurie in "Little Women." He has also been quite active in athletics, and two years a member of the Student Council.

Deceased

Eleanor Mae Goodnow
November 2, 1924 Hyannis

General
"Her heart was one of those which most enamour us, Wax to receive, and marble to retain."
Eleanor has shown herself to be a fine sport, both in and out of the games, and a loyal friend to all her pals. By the way, wanna borrow a dime? Eleanor is always willing to lend. We hope that she will attain her goal and become a right-smart school ma'am.

Irma Louise Gould
December 8, 1924 Shelburne

Commercial
"Whence is thy learning? Hath thy toil
O'er books consum'd in midnight oil?"
Until you get to know her, Irma, or "Goulie," is one of the quiet members of the class. Then she has a humor of her own. She likes basketball and has supported the class team for three years. Her slogan is "Knittin' for Britain." Don't be surprised if she yells, "Listen, kid!"

Phyllis Elaine Gould
December 12, 1923 Shelburne

College
"The better you know her,
the better you like her."
"Phil" wants to be a nurse; if she becomes one, we know there will be a lot of unnecessary sickness going around. Her favorite expression is, "Hi ya, kid. How's tricks?" If you want to know how to walk in as late as possible and still be there on time, just ask "Goulie."

James Addison Graves
March 7, 1924 Greenfield

College
"He scratched his head and kept on thinking."
Jim's hobby is drumming, and he wants to be a millionaire. When you get your money, Jim, don't forget Arms and the seniors—we sure could use some "jack"! We might also add that Jim is one of the best-dressed boys in school.

Beatrice York Herzig
August 2, 1924 Greenfield

General
"Not very tall, not very small,
But very sweet, and liked by all."
If you ever want to find "Bill," all you have to do is find the other two members of that Dwight, Lively, and Herzig trio. Bill will be remembered by many for the excellent work she did in Prize Speaking and "Hung Jury." If you need anything done, Bill is right there to do it. Her favorite pastime is giggling, and her ambition is to be a beautician.

Helen Ada Herzig
May 10, 1924 Colrain

General
"She has two eyes so soft and brown — beware!"
If you hear the clicking of needles, it's probably "Gracie" knitting a sweater for a certain sailor. She also likes to trip the light fantastic on Friday nights. About the year '28, you will probably be able to get a permanent at Gracie's beauty salon.

Deceased

June Elizabeth Herzig
April 26, 1924 Colrain

Commercial
"And I will make thee beds of roses,
And a thousand fragrant posies."
"Junie" is one of the quiet members of the class. By her sincere manner and hard work she has gained the honors of Pro Merito. During her spare moments, she may be found caring for her flower garden. Her ambition is to make money, and we wish her all the luck in the world.

Deceased 1-20-96
Kenneth Earl Herzig
April 2, 1924 Colrain

General
"Give me a girl who's sweet to see
Just she and I—leave the rest to me."
"I don't study, but I auto —" that's Kenny. We got acquainted with him as our Freshman class president, and with trombone playing as a pastime and "Little Women" as a hobby, we haven't been able to forget him. Although he may have his troubles, no one can deny he certainly "got the gravy" in the Senior Play.
P. S. Occasionally he grows a moustache, but will shave it off on request.

Mary Ann Kuczmariski
May 29, 1924 Conway

General
"Fair gems lie deepest."
This shy little lassie hails from Conway and is never separated from Irene. She is a loyal member of the winning class basketball team. Mary enjoys crocheting and sewing and plans to be a dressmaker. Judging from her neat work, we know she will be a success.

Deceased
Mary Eva Lanoue
June 23, 1923 Charlemont

Household Arts
"Some say she's quite shy but—"
When you think of white sparkling teeth and a bright cheery smile, whom do you think of? June, of course. June enjoys crocheting, but her real ambition is to be a hairdresser. Some day in the movies you may see: "Hair styles by June."

Deceased

James Arthur LaPlant
October 26, 1924 Montague

General
"For he's a jolly good fellow."
How "Jazz" manages to keep that innocent look upon his countenance when he is guilty of some little foul in a basketball or football game, or in a classroom, one will never know. He likes a variety of things, but his real likings are square dances and "kids."

Ruth Margaret Leavitt
March 9, 1924 Buckland

Commercial
"True in word, tried in deed."
"Red" has the reddest hair in the Senior Class, and when she blushes, you can't tell where her face begins, and the hair ends. She is a busy little typist, having been on the staff of the Sentinel, and this year on the Student. "Ruthie" has many friends here at Arms.

Deceased

Carolina Libardoni
September 16, 1923 Rowe

Household Arts
"Laughter makes one glad;
Why then be sad?"
"Carrie" is another "live wire" of our class. Her characteristic giggle is always giving away her presence. She and June are pals who find fun in anything and everything. She is the life of her gym class. We hope she makes a success in her ambition of nursing.

Reginald Libby
June 30, 1923 Fayette, Maine

Agriculture
"I'll put a girdle about the earth in in forty minutes."
Reginald is a football man, mainly. He also indulges vigorously in the other school sports. Basketball is probably the easiest for him because he is built in skyscraper proportions. His smile is one of the class' assets.

Deceased 1-26-2000

Elizabeth Veronica Lively
June 2, 1924 Colrain

General
"A laugh is worth a thousand groans in any language."
"Liz" is a good example of bottled sunshine, and is famed for her square-dancing in Shelburne. She likes to knit and ride (?) horseback, and her desire to travel explains that far-away look in her eyes. With her smiles and cheery ways, Elizabeth will make friends wherever she goes.

Marion Elizabeth Lively
April 7, 1924 Heath

Household Arts
"He is a fool who thinks by face or skill
To turn the current of a woman's will."
When Marion is determined, sparks seem to fly from those big brown eyes. She always sees a thing through. She is a wearer of the "Silver A," and we know she will always live up to its qualifications.

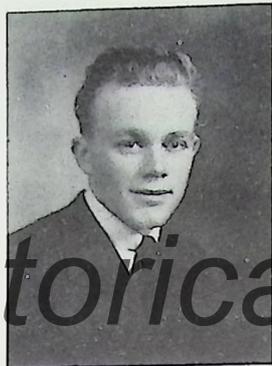

Shelburne Historical Society

Richard Sibley Long
May 26, 1925 Readsboro, Vermont
College

"It's all in knowing him."
"Dick" came to Arms from Readsboro High in his junior year. During his two years here he has made many friends. He likes bowling and is an efficient pin boy, especially on Monday nights. Baseball is also another favorite pastime of Dick's. He has a "key" interest in roller skating.

Declassified May 2010

Earle Achison Lowell
March 12, 1924 New Britain, Connecticut
General

"Caesar had his Brutus, Charles the First his Cromwell—and Earle has his good looks."
What the girls wouldn't give for Earle's hair—it's just full of irresistible links. If you should see a long green streak go "put-putting" by, don't be frightened; it's not the Green Hornet—just Earle taking his load of kiddies home to Buckland.

Aldo Lunardi
April 9, 1924 Montague
College

"Let me be the one to do what is done."
"Al" is deservedly a prominent member of our senior class. He has a long line of credits after his name. During his freshman year he received the "Silver A." Aldo plays a neat tune on a banjo and a guitar. We predict a successful future for Al.

Erving Leslie McBride
September 3, 1923 Queens County, Nova Scotia
General

"Fine reserve, noble reticence
And manners kind."
"Sandy" is one of our more handsome seniors. He is fond of horseback riding, skiing, and tennis; he also swings a mean foot on a dance floor. His ambition, at present, is to own a racing stable. We certainly hope he gets it.

Declassified

Geraldine Catherine Meech
March 20, 1924 Buckland
Household Arts

"She was ever willing to help."
"Gerry" is one of the most capable girls in the Household Arts department. She wears the "Silver A" and has been active in sports, receiving her letter in basketball this year. She is one of our quiet girls, but can be depended upon for anything. She has proven herself very valuable to Arms.

Grace Louise Messer
March 29, 1924 Montague
College

"The mildest manners and the gentlest heart."
"Gracie" has gone through a lot this past year. We hand it to her for having so much "spunk." She wants to be a career woman; if she keeps up the good work, we're sure that she'll succeed. She has been an ardent member of the French Club, and played on the class basketball team during her freshman and junior years. Prize speaking is also included in the list of her accomplishments.

Declassified 6-'96

Roswell Miller
February 18, 1925 Boston
General

"Men of few words are the best men."
"Rozzie" came to Arms from Templeton during his Freshman year. He plays the piano, "slightly," he says; but he really can beat out a mean tune. Rozzie was a member of the Arms band for two years, and president of the Future Farmers during his junior year. His ambition is to be a radio announcer.

Shirley Elizabeth Miller
May 22, 1925 Concord
General

"A comrade blithe and full of glee,
Who dares to laugh out loud and free."
In classes Shirley can be quiet, but she is quick to notice when something beside the question is left unsaid. Her personality is as nice as her hair, but she is full of mischief, too. Her favorite pastimes are roller skating and dancing.

Declassified

Doris May Mills
January 12, 1924 Shelburne
College

"Never trouble trouble 'til trouble troubles you."
"Butch" never lets anything bother her. She is very active in sports, and attends every game. She is quite a comedienne and often raises a laugh—especially in the class room. "Butch" is popular with us all at Arms Academy.

Marjorie Mirick
October 23, 1924 Buckland
College

"Still they gazed and still the wonder grew
That one small head could carry all she knew."
"Mimi" may be little, but oh boy! She says her hobby is dancing, but that's just what she says. We happen to know that one of her favorite songs is "Deep In the Heart of Texas" with sound effects. She's been pretty busy during her four years here with prize speaking, work on the Sentinel, and the Captain Hall Prize as a sideline. She plans to enter Duke University this fall, and we all wish her luck.

Declassified

Dorothy Louise Nichols
May 23, 1924 Shelburne
College

"I have a heart with room for every joy."
That's not a breeze that just came in; that's "Dot." Dorothy is one to stand by her own beliefs. She is a willing worker and a hard one. Her hobbies are skating and skiing, and her ambitions are to travel and to be a hair dresser.

Josephine Phoebe Payant
December 14, 1924 Colrain
Commercial

"Laughing and chattering through life she goes."
"Jo" is one of the happy members of the class. She is noted for her willingness to cooperate and her efficiency. She gets along "just great" in the Commercial Department, and we hear that she aims to be a stenographer—probably in the Head Master's office at Deerfield Academy.

Marjorie Louise Pease
November 13, 1921 Conway

General
"A laugh is worth a thousand tears."
"Marge," one of the smallest girls in the class, is full of fun and is always seen laughing. She has the very novel hobby of collecting milk pitchers. She wants to be a private secretary. What boss could be an old crab with Marge around?

Janette Anna Peters
January 4, 1924 Heath

College
"Quiet at first, but look again."
We wonder where "Pete" gets all her energy to drive her "miniature school bus" to and from Heath everyday. She was our typical Amy in "Little Women." We do not have to guess to know why her hobby is letter-writing, and her ambition to be a good cook.

Ralph Charles Pratt
April 7, 1924 Leverett

Agriculture
"We can say nothing, but what hath been said."
Conway is Ralph's home town and we hear he is "Strawberry King" there. He is a devoted "aggie" boy and is always ready for a joke. "Prattie" takes a special pride in getting into E. Temple's hair. His ambition is to be a good farmer. Someday he may feed the whole senior class.

Harold John Pyfrom
March 7, 1924 Buckland

General
"To be, or not to be, that is the question."
"Hal" has been very prominent in dramatics while at Arms. He is also interested in girls—preferably those who have their homework done. "Pieface" is the "short" of the "long and short" of Arms Academy. He is a great pal of "DuBois." Hal is noted for his art work and witty remarks in class.

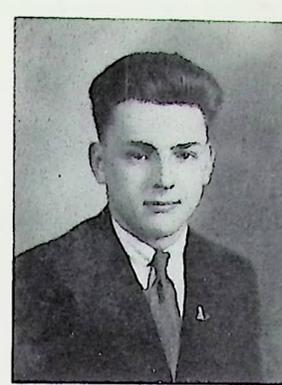

Phyllis Mae Raymond
February 9, 1924 Buckland

Household Arts
"A merry heart maketh a cheerful countenance."
"Phil" is one of our "H. A." girls and is rather quiet. She is usually seen with Beatrice Wilder. She collects snapshots and writes letters for a hobby; and she aspires to be a nurse. We know she will make a good nurse, as well as a "cute" one.

Margaret Ellen Reardon
December 7, 1923 Ann Arbor, Michigan

College
"A girl used to vicissitudes is not easily dejected."
"Peggy" returned to Arms this year from New Hampshire after an absence of two years. We remember her for her ability on the Junior Varsity during her year as a Frosh. Dancing and roller skating occupy her spare moments.

Verne Tyler Richardson
August 26, 1922 Shelburne

Shop
"On their own merits modest men are dumb."
Verne comes from wa-ay down in Shelburne, but it isn't far—sometimes. He's another one of our early birds who try to see how close they can come to being late and still make it. Verne has been ready, willing, and able to help in many things during his stay at Arms.

Ernest Howard St. Jacques
January 26, 1924 Northampton

General
"To you whose soul with music is blest
May your violin give your chin a rest."
"Ernie" seems to be such a quiet boy when in school, except when playing in Mr. Tufts' orchestra. Music is his field. That's where he really gives out the "old one-two." He was a good manager for Senior Varsity basketball. He hopes to enter the Army, and no doubt his ambition will be fulfilled.

Robina Helen Schechterle
October 26, 1924 Colrain

General
"A face that's best by its own beauty dressed."
"Shech" is a pretty little lass who comes from Shattuckville. She has been very active in basketball, both playing on class teams and managing varsity. Her hobby is collecting pictures. Robina's ambition is to travel; if she wants to, she certainly will.

Jean Lila Shaw
July 17, 1924 Buckland

General
"Her mirth the world required;
She bathed it in smiles of glee."
Jean, happy-go-lucky, queen of the carnival, has a likable personality. Her chief interest lies in Colrain. She has a very charming voice and can often be heard singing. She doesn't go up in the air very often, but still she wants to be an air hostess.

Martha Helen Stone
July 27, 1924 Montague

General
"A friend is like a book of which but one copy is printed."
"Stonie" is a very busy member of her class. She has been active as an officer and in sports. Her hobby is dancing, and she wants to travel later on. She has also talked about being a children's nurse. It will be hard to do both, but if anyone can do the impossible, Martha can.

Edward Bradley Stowe
October 16, 1924 Greenfield

Shop
"I do not set my life at a pin's fee."
Edward is one of those irrepresible boys who like machines and mechanical devices. He has a work shop at home and takes the the shop course. In science class, "Junior" is forever displaying a knowledge of scientific subjects. The electric welder is his favorite machine over in the shop.

Roland Robert Streeter
 March 1, 1923 Greenfield
 General
 "Young fellows will be young fellows."
 "Pokey" is a happy-go-lucky member of the class. He revels in teasing the female species of our Senior class. He has been a member of the chorus for four years. "Pokey" likes to play baseball with the Colrain Cubs, we hear.

Elizabeth Ann Suprenant
 September, 1923 Brattleboro, Vermont
 General
 "Care to our coffin adds a nail no doubt,
 But every cheery smile, draws one out."
 Swish! She went that way! Who?
 "Supie", of course, in that big green Buick. Her ambition is to own her own Buick, and since her hobby is driving, we hope the tire shortage doesn't last. With her cheery smiles and pleasant ways, Supie is a charming addition to our school. We wish that she would let us in on what she does on Friday nights.

 "Be sure of it: give me the ocular proof."
 Do you have any arguments you want settled? Take them to the "professor." If your problem is on a subject he is not familiar with, (very unlikely) he will do his best anyway. Earle has displayed a great amount of knowledge on agriculture judging teams and received several medals. He has also shown talent on the stage.

 "A little nonsense now and then
 Is cherished by the wisest men."
 The Commercial department would be quite dull this year if it were not for the pranks and mischief of "Joe." He has been quite active in dramatics, and won first prize in the Junior Prize Speaking contest. He is quite a ski enthusiast, but he's had some rather hard experiences while learning. Joe was awarded the Sentinel Prize, and the Julia Maxime Award.

 "Such a tiny one,
 Chock full of fun."
 It is the general belief that good things come in small packages, and who ever complained about the size of dynamite? Jean's favorite pastime is roller-skating, and she goes in for the Polish-hops. She is also a little actress, as her work in "The Patchwork Quilt" proved. We wish her all the success in the world, and if we know Jean, she'll get along!

 "Oh! I am stabbed with laughter."
 "Jinny" always has a laugh ready for everyone. She has been very prominent in school activities; first girl president for a long time, captain of basketball team, and leads in class plays. She likes to take care of big and little children, and when her ship comes in she wants to travel.

 "Silence, more musical than any song."
 "Di" is one of our very quiet and demure Seniors. She is quite an artist and aspires to be a fashion-designer. By studying diligently, she manages to keep up her good marks, and is a member of Pro Merito Society.

 "Lo" seems awfully quiet until you really get to know her. It is then that you appreciate her sense of humor. If you want to know where there is a square dance, just ask Lois. Dancing is only one of her favorite pastimes; another is basketball.

 "Happy go lucky, fair and free
 Nothing there is that bothers me."
 We have a feeling something is missing when we don't hear "Beaty's" voice in main room or in any of her classes. The whole atmosphere changes when she enters a room. At the most opportune moments she will come out with one of her unexpected wise cracks. Her ambition is nursing.

Student Board

Do you hear sounds that remind you of a hive full of busy bees? You must be in Room V on Monday afternoon, and are, undoubtedly, looking in on what is supposed to be the weekly meeting of the Student Board. What you see is an industrious crew, scribbling and scratching away, and perhaps you might hear an occasional sigh.

But that isn't all! After the material has been passed in and edited, the typewriters are kept pretty much in use by the typists who work like trojans to get the material prettied up.

While the editorial board and the typists are busy around the school buildings, the business board has spent many precious afternoons running "round and about" getting ads. (The ads are very essential to the book, too, although you may think just the contrary.)

After all that, you'd think that the boards would have earned a rest. But that's where you are mistaken. Then comes the job of proof-reading, pasting the dummy copy, and getting the book to the printers. The biggest trouble with this work is that it comes just at the height of the baseball season!

Yes, we have to work, and there is plenty of it, but along with the hard work we have enjoyed a little more nonsense and fun.

When the last copy is sold in June (we hope) we can say, "It was worth it!"

Sentinel

The "Sentinel" was edited every two weeks this year. Members of the staff were given their assignments during the week. Their assignments were due on Friday of that week, if possible. (It's surprising how impossible it is to get things done by Friday.) The following Monday the staff met to finish up any odds and ends, or work that had not been finished on Friday. Then Miss Stewart, editor, typist, and printers would bring forth the finished "Sentinel", ready to be devoured by eager subscribers during extra period. Sound strenuous? Possibly, but even if there was a bit of work to it, the members of the staff mixed in a little fun too. We really had a good time.

Pro Merito

Last June, the so-called "quiz kids" of the Junior Class were taken into the Pro Merito Society. These "worthy seekers of knowledge" numbered twelve then, but now they have eighteen. At an early rendezvous, they elected the following leaders: Joseph Tetreault, President; Jeanne Fontaine, Vice President; Diane Waste, Secretary; Irma Gould, Treasurer; Janette Peters, Representative to the Student Council.

October seemed to be the month of conventions for these bright and shining stars, for they attended two in that month. On October 18, four members attended a meeting in Williamstown, after which they saw a football game between Arms and Williamstown. After this novice game, they went over to the College field and saw another exciting game between Bowdoin College and Williams College. Boy! Were the hot dogs good!

The next week, October 25, thirteen members went to another convention in Turners Falls. They heard a very inspiring lecture, and afterward, according to Pro Merito tradition, went to a football game.

During the winter months, they hibernated; i.e., they studied. With the first signs of spring they awoke to find four new members waiting to be inducted. This was done very impressively at Pro Merito Assembly in March.

Before they graduate they have one more duty to fulfill. On Class Day in June, they will swell the ranks of their illustrious band by inducting those Juniors who are worthy of recognition by Pro Merito.

French Club

The French Club, which has been active at Arms Academy for several years, had a very interesting and successful program this year under the guidance of Miss Chase, its advisor, and Virginia Upton, its president.

The meetings, which were educational as well as very interesting, consisted of a series of imaginary trips to different parts of France. In each of these meetings the customs, costumes, songs, and amusements of a particular section of France were demonstrated by members of the Club.

In the first meeting, held October 28, 1941, Lucille Burnap conducted an imaginary tour by boat from Marseille to Southern France as far as Le Havre. The officers elected were: President, Virginia Upton; Vice-president, Gladys Geiger; Secretary, Gloria Lunardi; Treasurer, Richard Scott.

At the Christmas meeting the French Club was joined by the Commercial Club and the Latin I class. Two plays — "Le Serin de Noel" by the French Club and "A Day Without Latin" by the Latin Class — were presented. Both of these were enjoyed immensely. Gifts were exchanged and everyone joined in singing Christmas songs.

At the March meeting, a day in Paris was demonstrated by members of the Club and three of our future Arms Academy students (about 1954). The children, Joey Davenport, Charlene Gould, and Ann McQuade, played the part of small Parisian children watching a puppet show which they seemed to enjoy as much as the audience.

Commercial Club

The Arms Academy Commercial Club is an organization which stimulates interest in the Commercial Department and helps to prepare the students for social and business contacts after leaving school. In other words, it is a club where students mix study with play and have a good time doing it.

This year the club elected as its officers: Alice Forgette, President; William Dobias, Vice-President; Joseph Tetreault, Secretary; and Clayton Barry, Treasurer.

The club had a number of social meetings as well as educational programs. This variety in meetings kept the club from becoming too much of a business organization.

In October, the club hiked to the Shelburne tower and everyone returned feeling refreshed though slightly the worse for wear. It was thought that some of the members, especially the "gals" (including the faculty adviser), would have to be carried home. The outfits were too divine!

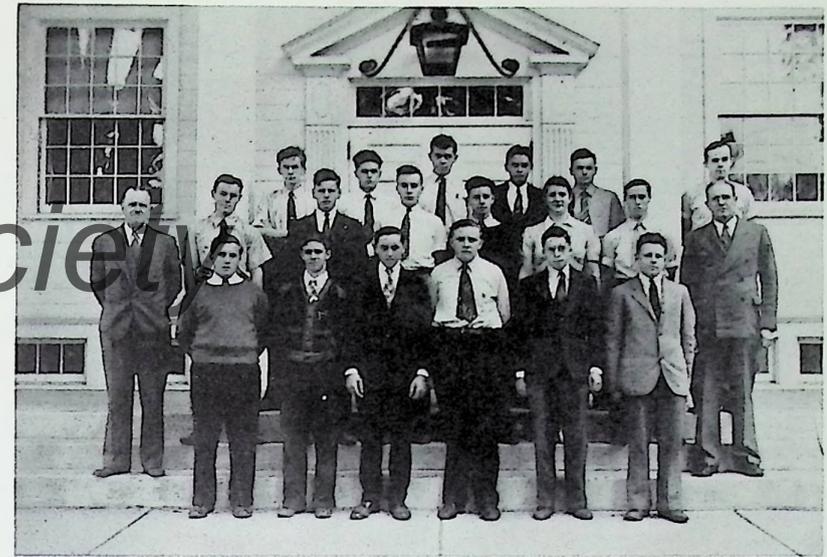

A Christmas Party, combined with the French Club, was held in the Assembly Hall, for the December meeting. The Commercial Club had charge of the games and the "eats" which were jelly doughnuts and chocolate milk. Boy, leave it to us to see that people don't go hungry, especially at our social parties. Gifts were exchanged and a good time was had by all, although we did miss Santa Claus.

Other programs during the year provided for such things as a "Seeing America First" tour, "We Pledge Allegiance," a May party, and an "Inspection Tour." To wind up the season, the club had an outdoor picnic, giving vent to all the steam that had been collected during the year.

Another feature of this club is the awarding of pins and certificates to all students who attain the necessary requirements in shorthand, typing, or bookkeeping. It is not necessary to be a member of the club to receive one of these pins.

The Commercial Club does everything it can to benefit the school, and its members are unusually active in other school organizations, and thereby show their loyalty to Arms Academy.

Mohawk Valley Future Farmers

The boys of the organization participated in judging contests at several fairs and at the State College. Many pins and prizes were won. At nearly every assembly, it seemed, Mr. Tufts or Mr. Miller made a presentation or two.

Last fall the chapter held an exhibit of fruits and vegetables in Science Hall. At the end of the exhibit the displays were auctioned off by Kenneth McCloud, the auctioneer. The public as well as the entire school was invited. The receipts totaled twenty-five dollars.

This year seeds have again been ordered through the Eastern States cooperative. The offer is open to the entire student body of the high school in an effort to interest everyone in "Victory" gardens.

The organization attended the auction of farm machinery at the Greenfield Fair grounds on March 18.

Perhaps the new name of the association helped to make the year the success that it was.

Library

In the left corner of Main Room is the interesting little room called the Library. Besides carrying books, the library also supplies the student body with a walking supply room, walking dictionaries, encyclopedias, and reference books, i.e., the librarians. Some people come to get books; others just come up; others come up and tell a few jokes; these jokes now and then help to raise the morale of the students during study periods.

Don't get me wrong, readers of this article, librarians do not have any more privileges than anybody else in Study Hall — ask me, I know!

Librarians: Virginia Amidon, Clayton Barry, Lucille Burnap, Jeanne Fontaine, Beatrice Herzig, Ada May Landstrom, Elizabeth Lively, Geraldine Meech, Virginia Oates, Janette Peters, Jean Shaw, Martha Stone, Joseph Tetreault, Lois Wetherbee.

Reading Room

. . . where everything, including reading, is done.

The reading room seems to have been very popular and prominent this year. It is very interesting to look over the assistant's records of persons using the reading room and see that on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, every day, in fact, during second period Mr. Gent and Miss Lady have made use of this golden privilege, without missing a period. Of course, we all know that they are interested in the fascinating war news — and comics? Study-hall teachers just seem to enjoy "patrolling this beat."

This year the reading room was adorned with a new indirect-lighting table lamp, which has proved its worth on many a gloomy period of a rainy day. Many new books, (as well as a few new assistants), have been added. The new books run along the lines of fiction, non-fiction, poetry, drama, and current affairs. The magazines and papers are the same this year as last.

Everyone likes the reading room, and it is considered an asset to the school.

The assistants are: Kenneth Herzig, Lila Lawless, Marion Lively, Gloria Lunardi, Eleanor McCullough, Roswell Miller, Doris Mills, Marjorie Mirick.

Musical Groups

If someone should ask, "What does Arms offer for a musical program?" he would be quite surprised to find we have a twenty-seven piece band, a thirty-three piece orchestra, and one hundred and ten chorus members. That is an enviable record for such a small school. Perhaps he thinks these groups are not very active. Well, he is in for another surprise.

The musical year at the Academy is divided into the fall, winter, and spring seasons with the band, orchestra, and chorus being most active in these respective seasons. That is, at that particular time, that group makes the most public appearances.

In the fall, the band plays at the Greenfield Fair and at several games. Last year, because the former drum major had graduated, Jean Davenport was chosen to fill that position. Now there is a corp of twirlers formed, and they are becoming very expert at that art.

In the winter, the orchestra is busier than usual, practicing for the Senior Play, the One-Act Plays, Parents' Night, and Prize Speaking. This year they performed at the Buckland Farmers' Club Meetings.

The chorus has been divided into two sections this year, as Mr. Richmond believes the best results will be gained this way. Besides this group's appearance at the annual May Festival, a few of the members recently took part in a Conway Parent-Teacher's meeting.

Usually, the grand finale of the musical year is the May Festival. At this time all musical groups, including those of the grammar schools, take part, rounding out a full year of activity.

Sitzmarkers

Shelburne Historical Society

The ski club, later named the Sitzmarkers, was organized this fall by Mr. Avery.

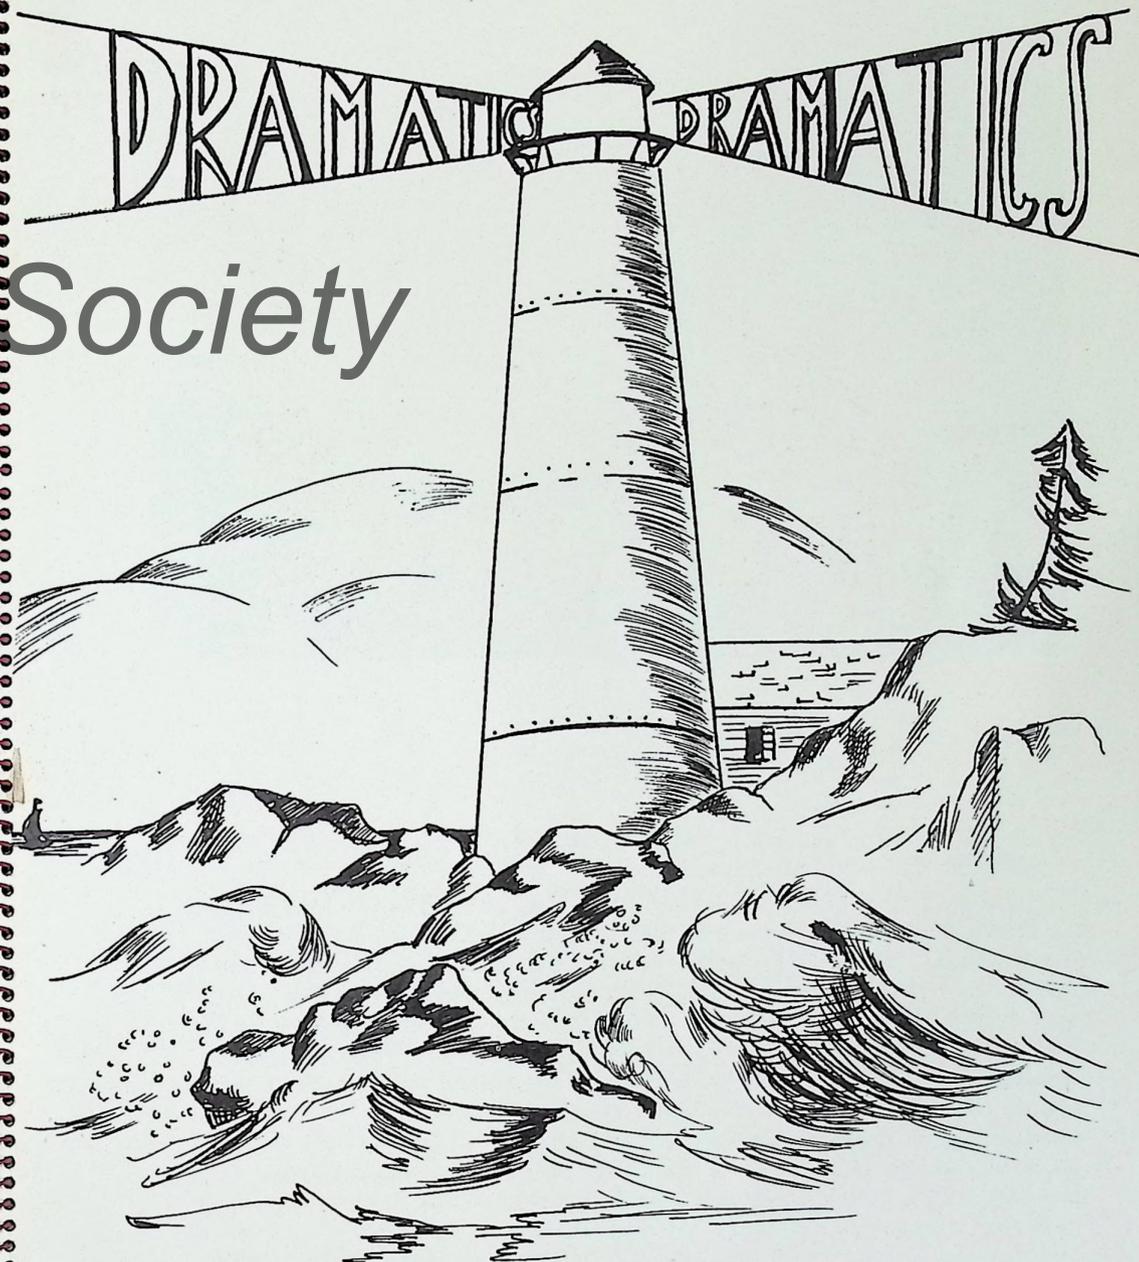

A name was chosen and officers elected as follows: John Hoffer, president; Aldo Lunardi, vice-president; Helen Shaw, secretary, and James Galipo, treasurer.

Because of unfavorable weather conditions, namely, a lack of snow, all meetings, with the exception of one, were held inside. Despite the inside meetings most everyone's skiing was improved. The meetings were spent discussing skiing equipment and learning, in theory at least, how to execute various turns and jumps.

During the fall some of the boys generously gave their time and effort in the making of the trail, the Corkscrew on Massaemat Mountain.

The club had emblems made and sold them to the members. These emblems had a color scheme of dark red and white, the same as the school colors. The club also distributed around the school on bulletin boards diagrams helpful in improving or learning the art of skiing.

The idea of a ski club was very enthusiastically received. The Sitzmarkers now boast many members and hope to enroll many more next season.

Senior Play

This year the Seniors put on a new and different type of play that was a huge success. It was "Little Women" by Louisa M. Alcott.

Virginia Upton was the tom-boyish Jo, who broke Laurie's (Joe Giguere) heart by refusing to marry him. She became the great writer she had always dreamed of being, and later married Professor Bhaer (James DuBois) of New York. Mr. March, the father, (Harold Pyfrom) was a chaplain in the Civil War, and there was great rejoicing when he returned to his family. The oldest daughter, Meg, (Edna Cummings) was a problem to all the rest when they found out she was in love with John Brooke (Kenneth Herzig), Laurie's tutor. However, everything turned out all right, and then marriage was blessed with twins. Marmee (Alice Forgette) was the wonderful mother of the Little Women. She gave them sound advice that lasted them through the years. Amy (Lois Wilde) was the artist of the family who practically vamped Laurie into marrying her after they accidentally met while both were on a trip in Europe. Little Beth (Janette Peters) was taken by the Angel of Death quite early in the lives of the young people, and her place was never filled in the hearts of her loved ones. The comedy was furnished by the crotchety Aunt March (Barbara Dwight), the rich aunt who was really responsible for bringing Meg and Brooke together and for Jo's success as a writer.

After being separated for several months, the entire family, with the exception of Beth, was reunited on Marmee's birthday, and the play closed with the March family on the road to happiness.

Miss Burkill's coaching made the play the success that it was. The clothes that the actors and actresses wore were exact outfits worn in Civil War days. The girls had to have a good deal of practice to be able to walk in the voluminous hoop-skirts.

Backstage was an efficient crew of students that made the play run along smoothly. The prompter was Jeanne Fontaine; Marion Lively, Diane Waste, and Beatrice Herzig handled the costumes; Jean Shaw, Virginia Amidon, and Doris Mills took care of properties; and Alan Finck, Charles and Calvin Clark, and Everett Coutu were stage managers. A group of girls sold candy and ushered.

At the end of the play Miss Burkill, Mr. Muir, and Mr. Miller were presented with gifts in appreciation of their hard work in making the play a success.

One Act Plays

"THE LAND OF HEART'S DESIRE"

The Juniors' selection "The Land of Heart's Desire," written by William Butler Yeats, was woven around the belief in the power of fairies as shared by many of the Irish farmer folk of the nineteenth century. The play was handled very well by the cast, especially the very dramatic scene when the beautiful fairy in the form of a small child came to lure the unhappy bride away from her loving husband.

The Cast: Maurteen Bruin . . . Henry Samoriski; Bridget Bruin . . . Virginia Oates; Father Hart . . . William Dobias; Shawn . . . Mark Burnham; Madre . . . Ruth Nichols; Fairy . . . Helen Dobias — Coach . . . Mr. Roswell Miller.

"YOUTH and UNCLE SAM"

Wilbur Braun's play, "Youth and Uncle Sam," was a patriotic play whose setting was the principal's office in a large school. The pretty secretary in the office had her hands full trying to straighten out the disputes between two girls of different nationalities; promoting a thriving romance between a poor boy and a wealthy girl; and convincing the students that one of the teachers was not a Communist.

The Cast: Principal Erskine . . . Gerald Lively; Dora Roberts . . . Kathleen Dole; Eva Brodsky . . . Carolyn Johnson; Mrs. Bill Slocum . . . Barbara Fitzgibbons; Mrs. Perry Martindale . . . Barbara Harrington; Sonny Hampton . . . Lyle Hall; Arlena Moocha . . . Betty Warner; Rose Delaney . . . Sara Baker; Carl Hoffner . . . Roland Call; Winifred Martindale . . . Marie Peters; Coach — Miss Chase.

"ANTIC SPRING"

The Freshman play, "Antic Spring," by Robert Nail, was a typical example of the trials and tribulations of young lovers, young brothers, and the "poetic" type of person. The play followed modern trends in that it had no properties, — only six chairs in which the talented stars rode forth to a picnic. The spot they chose included damp earth, a stream to go wading in, a mountain to climb, and that dread of all picnickers — an ant-hill.

The Cast: Ginger . . . Alice Brown; Gwendolyn . . . Marie Shippee; Blossom . . . Ruth Canedy; Robert . . . Gerald Tetreault; Sam . . . Dexter Lyman; Elbert . . . Winthrop Anderson and Harold Pyfrom; Coach . . . Miss Burkill.

Junior Prize Speaking

Shelburne Historical Society

This year the Junior Prize Speaking contest began with twenty-five contestants. After semi-finals on March 12, March 19, and March 27, the number was reduced to nine. These speakers were ably coached by Miss Burkill and publicly presented their selections in Science Hall on March 27, before a large audience.

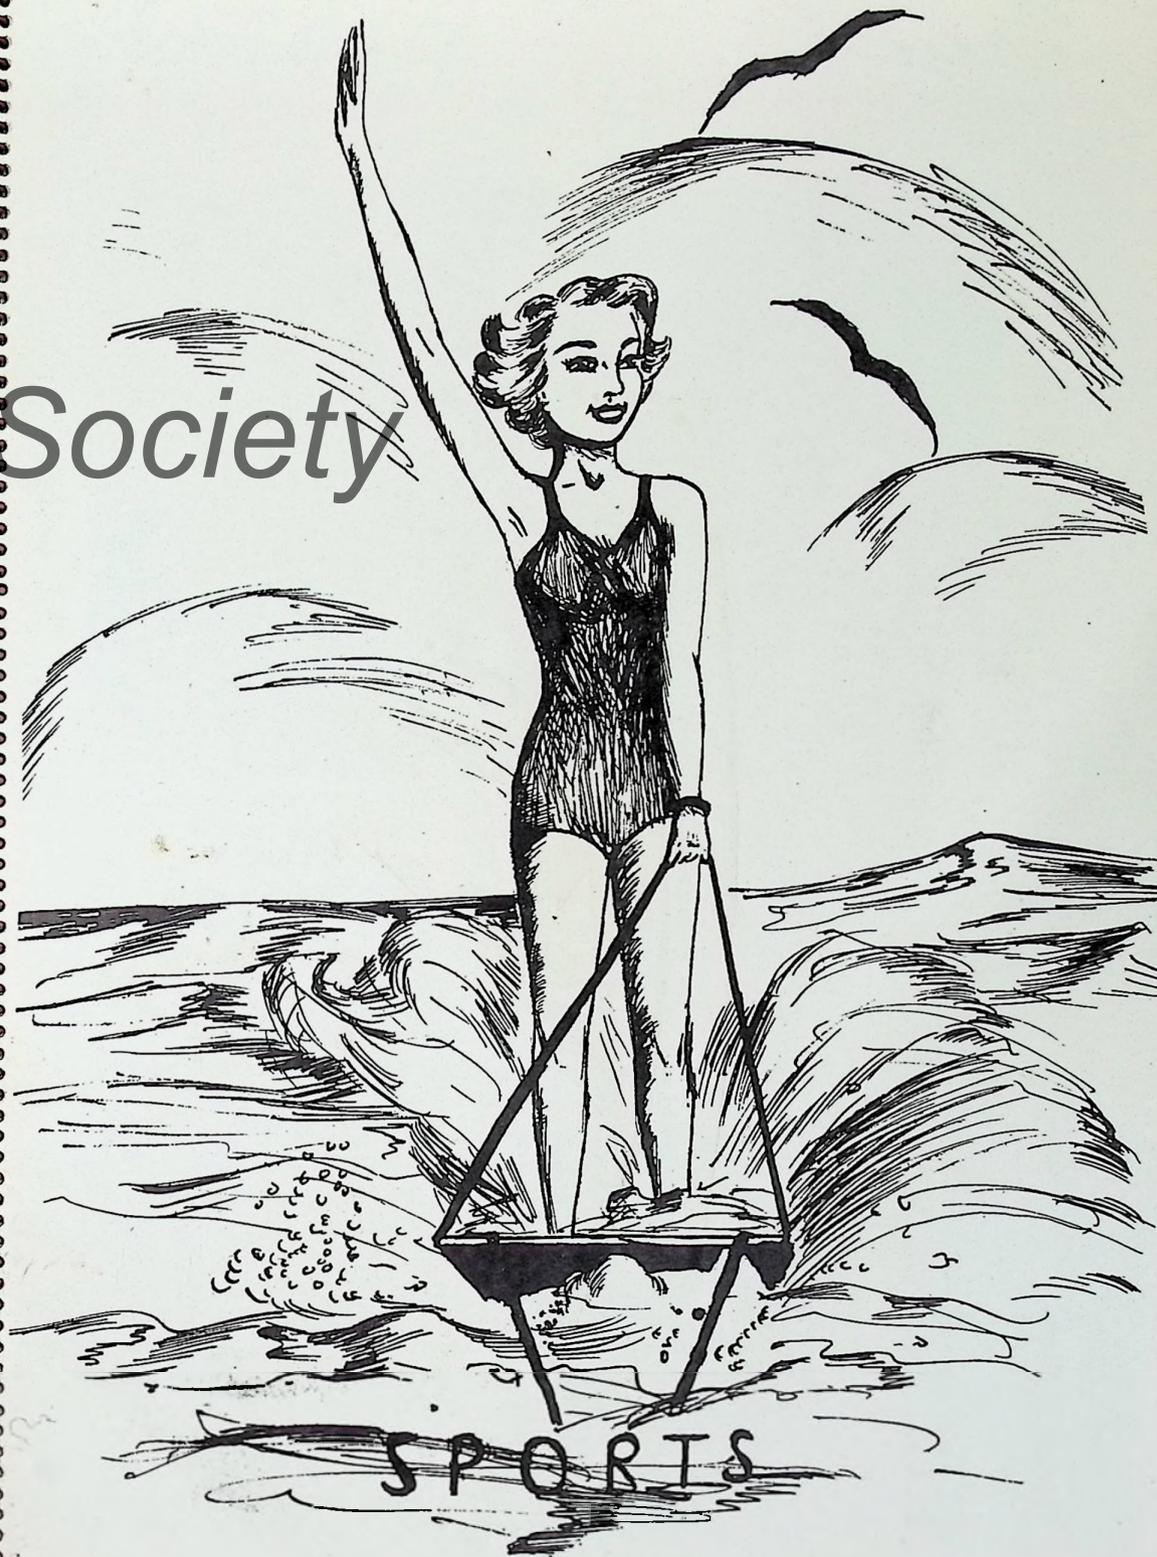

The program consisted of:

The White Cliffs	Jeanne Peck
Rollo Learning to Read	Charles Walden
Beyond the Stars	Erna Francis
At the Opera	Gladys Geiger
Daddy Doc	Marjorie Deveney
The Use of Science	Mark Burnham
Wicked Little William	Virginia Oates
Selections from "Blood, Sweat, and Tears"	Henry Samoriski
Ven Hannah Var Eight Yar Old	Marion Lusty

The Arms Orchestra, directed by Mr. Richmond, furnished several selections.

The judges were Mrs. Carleton P. Davenport, Mrs. Harold E. Williams, and Rev. Vernon F. Bevan. Their decision was:

First Prize:	Mark Burnham
Second Prize	Gladys Geiger
Third Prize:	Henry Samoriski

Track

After winning the Greenfield Fair Class "B" events for four years, the Armstracksters this year bowed to Orange and ended in second place seven points behind their rivals.

The final point standing was:

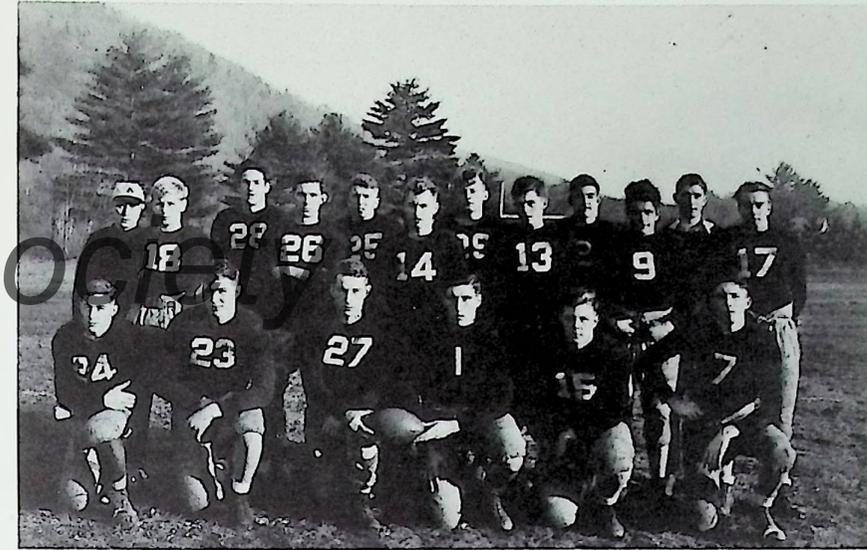

Orange	30
Arms	23
Charlemont	10
Deerfield	9

Arms' showing was surprisingly good when you consider that "Joe" Giguere was the only point gainer to return from the preceding year, and that Mr. Merrill was new here and had only a few days with which to turn out a team.

Our boys collected three first place events, two second place events, and two third place events. First places were taken by Alan Finck in the shot put, "Jim" DuBois in the high jump, and "Pecky" Walden in the broad-jump. "Joe" Giguere came in second in the 220-yard race, and the relay team composed of "Joe" Giguere, "Ken" Herzig, Mark Burnham, and "Willie" Crofton also captured a second place. "Ken" Herzig placed third in the 100-yard novice and the 220-yard races. Medals were awarded to these boys in assembly.

Football

Last year's "Student" stated an expectation of a good season for the Arms Football team of 1941. This expectation was fulfilled.

Among the eight lettermen returning from the previous year were Co-Captains Alan Finck and Everett Coutu. Others were James LaPlant, Howard Binder, Kenneth McCloud, Duncan Upton, William Crofton, and James Galipo.

The first game was played at the Cricket field with the Greenfield JV's, and after a hard fought battle, Arms came out on the long end 6 to 0. Next, the Merrillmen took Templeton into camp, 25 to 0. Third victims were Deerfield; this time the score was 7 to 0, in our favor. On October 18, Arms traveled to Williamstown and there all hopes for an unscored-upon season were shattered. Our footballers suffered their first setback, the score 7 to 0. Again playing out of town, Arms and the Deerfield Academy Seconds could come to no decision. The final score was 7 to 7. Arms' second defeat was suffered at the hands of Dalton, 14 to 6. Armistice Day saw the Arms team traveling to Deerfield. Again Arms entered into the win column—this time the score was 19 to 7. The totals were: won 4, lost 2, tied 1; points: Arms 70, opponents 35.

Later in assembly, letters were awarded to the following worthies:

Varsity: Co-Captains, Alan Finck and Everett Coutu. Co-Captains Elect Kenneth McCloud and John Hoffer. Joseph Giguere, James LaPlant, Reginald Libby, Howard Binder, William Crofton, James Delaney, Thaddeus Samoriski, Duncan Upton, David Van Valkenburg, manager, Charles Walden, Lawrence Caprari, and James Galipo.

Junior Varsity: Assistant Manager Donald Finck, Parker Gerry, Clinton Stafford, Assistant Manager Francis Stone, Jack Evans, and Lyle Hall.

Boys' Varsity Basketball

On December 16, 1941, the Arms basketball team opened its basketball season by playing host to Charlemont High. Although they won their first game, the outlook for the league season was not very good. Duncan Upton, Jr., the captain, was the only letterman left from last year.

On the 18th of December the team nosed out the Alumni. January 6th saw South Hadley coming to Arms and the league was officially under way. Arms didn't win any league games the first half, although they came close in the Orange game but were beaten in the overtime period. The worst defeats were suffered at the hands of Hopkins and Amherst.

Arms again broke into the win column on January 29, when they took the Deerfield Academy J. V.'s into camp, but when the league started again Arms lost. This half was much better than the first half because Arms won two league games, one each from Orange and Deerfield.

The season's record was — won five, lost twelve; league record was fourteen games played, two won and twelve lost.

Although this year's team isn't registered as successful, it is a success in one respect — and that is, a majority of the varsity players are returning. With these, Charles "Pecky" Walden, the captain-elect, and a few promising freshmen coming up next year, we are all looking forward to a successful season in 1942-43.

Girls' Basketball

The Girls' Basketball team under our new coach, Miss Gladys Archibald, and Captain Virginia Upton, played nine games, of which three were away — one at Deerfield, one at Greenfield, and one at Orange.

The fact that the season was not a successful one as far as winning games goes was due partly to unavoidable circumstances. In the first place, only two of last year's members of the varsity team remained with us for this year. In the second place we have had considerable shifting of coaches. Miss Flaherty gave up her position to teach English when Miss Chapman resigned and Miss Mansfield, chosen to fill the vacancy as gymnastics instructor, resigned last June to be married.

The season was opened by the Alumnae game which the varsity carried off with the score 23-13. The team played the Deerfield, Greenfield, and Orange teams twice, and had one game each with Charlemont and with Turners Falls. The successful scores of one game with Orange and the game with Charlemont proved that the spirits and sportmanship of the Arms girls were high.

As next year's leaders, the team chose Ruth Nichols and Marjorie Deveney as co-captains. Of the varsity team there will be four left for next year's team. These are Ruth Nichols, Marjorie Deveney, Virginia Oates, and Lila Lawless.

Those receiving varsity letters this year were as follows: Virginia Upton, Captain, Lucille Burnap, Jeanne Fontaine, Eleanor Goodnow, Geraldine Meech, Doris Mills, Marjorie Mirick, Marjorie Deveney, Lila Lawless, Ruth Nichols, Virginia Oates, Robina Schechterle, Manager.

Those receiving Junior Varsity letters were: Dorothy Nichols, Elizabeth Suprenant, Marguerite Albec, Mildred Bruffee, Eleanor McCulloch, Eleanor McQuade, Mary Munsinger, Helen Peck, Jeanne Peck, Margaret Peck, Dolores Putnam, Virginia Crafts, Jean Davenport, Dorothy Deware, Anne Messer, Alice Brown, Helen Suprenant.

Boys' Class Basketball

Shelburne Historical Society

After four long years of hard struggling, the class of 1942, this year, won its numerals for the first time. It was a steady, progressive climb for four years. In 1939, it was last; 1940, it was third; 1941, it was second; and finally in 1942, they made it.

This year's champs had a scare thrown into them by the Juniors, in their only game, but they nosed out the undergraduates after a hard game.

The Varsity basketball team accepted an invitation to play the Seniors and promptly swamped the Class Champions.

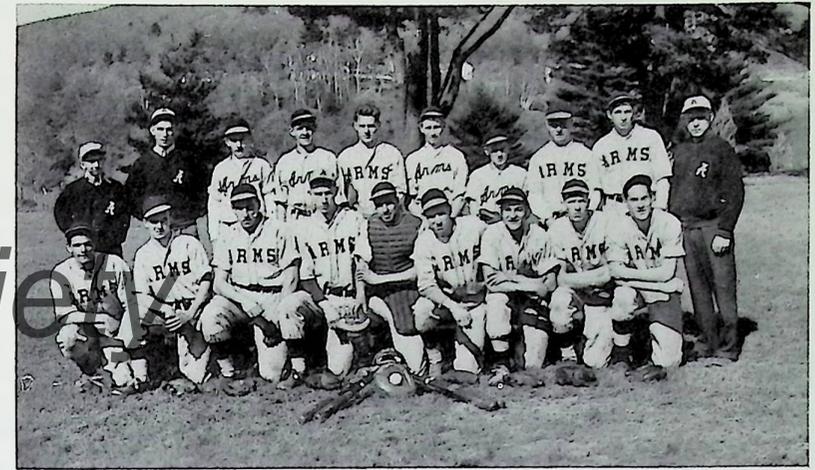

Girls' Class Basketball

This year's basketball season was completed with the class teams competing for their numerals. We all knew (at least the seniors hoped) that our seniors would win, but we certainly were surprised when those freshmen beat them — and they were such little girls too! This beating must have done something to the seniors, or maybe it was the work of Captain Virginia Amidon because they won all of the other games which they played, thus winning their numerals.

It even had some of the Varsity scared when it was announced that the winners were to play Varsity, but the big senior "numeral winners" were certainly "skunked" right off their perch when the Varsity trimmed them with a score of 42-11.

Baseball

The baseball team had not had a real practice session at the time that this article was written. The team had been outdoors a few times, and things were looking up until the snowstorm of April 10th and 11th.

Prospects for the season are very good, as many veterans have returned. This year's team has had a lot of experience both with the high school teams and with the American Legion.

A definite lineup has not been chosen, but those who are likely to see a lot of service are "Art" Brown, captain of this year's nine, Everett Coutu, "Jim" Delaney, "Willie" Crofton, "Ken" McCloud, Alan Finck, "Dick" Long, "Pecky" Walden, "Howie" Binder, "Dunc" Upton, and Lyle Hall. There are many others out who, even though they don't play regularly with the first team this year, will see service, and in a year or two they will be the big nine for Arms.

Last spring the Arms '42 baseball team played the Greenfield High '42 baseball team and our boys won 4 to 0, with Finck on the hill for Arms. This helps prove that Arms will have a good baseball team in 1942.

The schedule for this year, complete at the time this article was written, is as follows:

April 29	Smith Academy	Home
May 1	Deerfield	There
May 6	Smith School	Home
May 8	Hopkins	There
May 13	Amherst	Home
May 15	Hopkins	Home
May 20	Amherst	There
May 22	Smith Academy	There
May 27	Deerfield	Home
May 29	Smith School	There
June 6	Alumni	Home

At Arms—Or Off On a Bat

(Editorial comment: With due apologies to the boys on the team, we ask you to use your baseball ingenuity and imagination in reading this article.)

Although there isn't, to the baseball player, any base like home, this year's team was fortunate in securing bus transportation, and gas—what? They all took advantage of this and pitched in and have won five straight, to date. If nothing goes foul they will see the season through.

In the first base, they are very lucky in more than one way; they have a Hall of fame. I Finck that it won't be Long before Arms has a new trophy in the main room. Howard that make you field? The team has beaten every other team in the league except Amherst, and we hope they will Brown them. If Everett happens that they get beat, we will know that they tried hard and did their best.

The bean was furnished with new Caps in more than one way, both for the head, and the team.

Because of snow the team practiced in the gym for quite a while. Now they are using a Jim in the outfield.

After every game that is won they Dunc in the showers and consider that there is another job Walden.

Whenever the opposition hits a ball, everybody asks himself two questions: "Kenny get it?" and "Willie get it?" But when one of our players hits one, we just pray that it will keep Rolland along.

Have you ever seen a cross fire, a base bawl, a double play, a line drive, a home run, a horse hide, or the fun go. Did you ever take a strike out, or have a Fielder's choice, or see a sacrifice hit? Ever have a squeeze play, or can't you get to first base before you get put out?

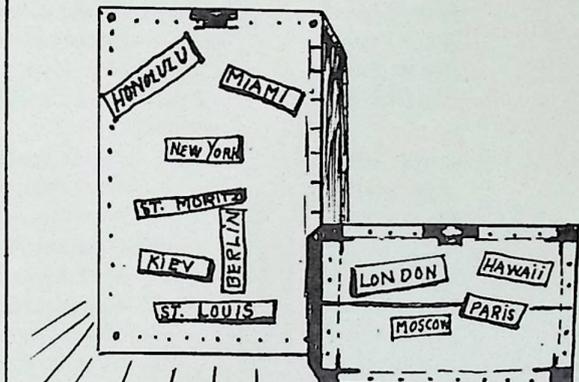

Writing this article has put me in the hole, and it's my third strike; so now I'm out. It's about time that I quit—before everybody who has read this far has forfeits. Although I am a game boy, I finally have come to the inning.

Class Will

Be it remembered that

We, the senior class of 1942 of Arms Academy, in the county of Franklin, and the state of Massachusetts, being of sound mind and body, do hereby make our last will and testament, we make it brief due to the war shortage of paper.

We give and bequeath as follows:

To:

Mr. Watkins and all other members of the faculty: our sincere gratitude for their untiring efforts in helping us become a graduating class.

Mr. Muir and Miss Burkill, our class advisers: Our deepest admiration for their loyalty to us.

Mr. Watkins: an ironing that will be heard more plainly in Main Room.

Mr. Avery: a senior class of U. S. History that doesn't giggle.

Miss Outhouse: another study hall like second period.

Mr. Merrill: a bottle of hair-growing tonic.

Mr. Tufts: a good joke book.

All under-classes: another swell year with Miss Archibald (if the Army doesn't get her first).

Individual members bequeath thus:

Janette Peters leaves to Miss Outhouse, all the chewing gum that "E.L.O." has made her throw in the basket.

Aldo Lunardi leaves some of his physics brains to Mr. Frude, so that next year's class won't be so dumb.

Clayton Barry leaves to Mr. Avery his $64 when he gets the $64 question.

James DuBois leaves a few inches of his height to Richard Young.

Jeanne Fontaine leaves her giggle to Eleanor Lee.

Arthur Brown leaves his poetic wit to his brother, Lawrence.

Earle Lowell leaves his curling irons and wave set to Dennis Reardon.

Shirley Miller leaves her admittance slips to anyone who needs them.

Joseph Giguere leaves his acting ability to any junior who gets drafted into the senior play next year.

Phyllis Gould leaves her ability to walk in just before the last bell to Johnnie Hoffer.

Harold Pyfrom leaves his flashing smile and wit to the teachers to remember him by.

Earle Temple leaves his manners to all future senior boys.

Erving McBride leaves his place as the outstanding jitter-bug to Dolores Putnam. (Not that she needs it!)

Kenneth Herzig leaves his voice to Lewis LaCross.

Betty Suprenant leaves her charming personality to those junior glamour girls.

James Graves leaves his extensive wardrobe to any boy who needs a few extras.

Geraldine Meech leaves her clothes to the Household Arts department, so that future dressmakers can see how it's done.

Ruth Leavitt leaves to Jean Davenport, her place as the outstanding red-head at Arms.

Jean Shaw leaves a certain junior to the protection of the junior girls next year.

Virginia Amidon and Calvin Clark leave — together.

All the rest leave with our diplomas — we hope.

To Arms Academy we leave the hope of having no more classes like '42.

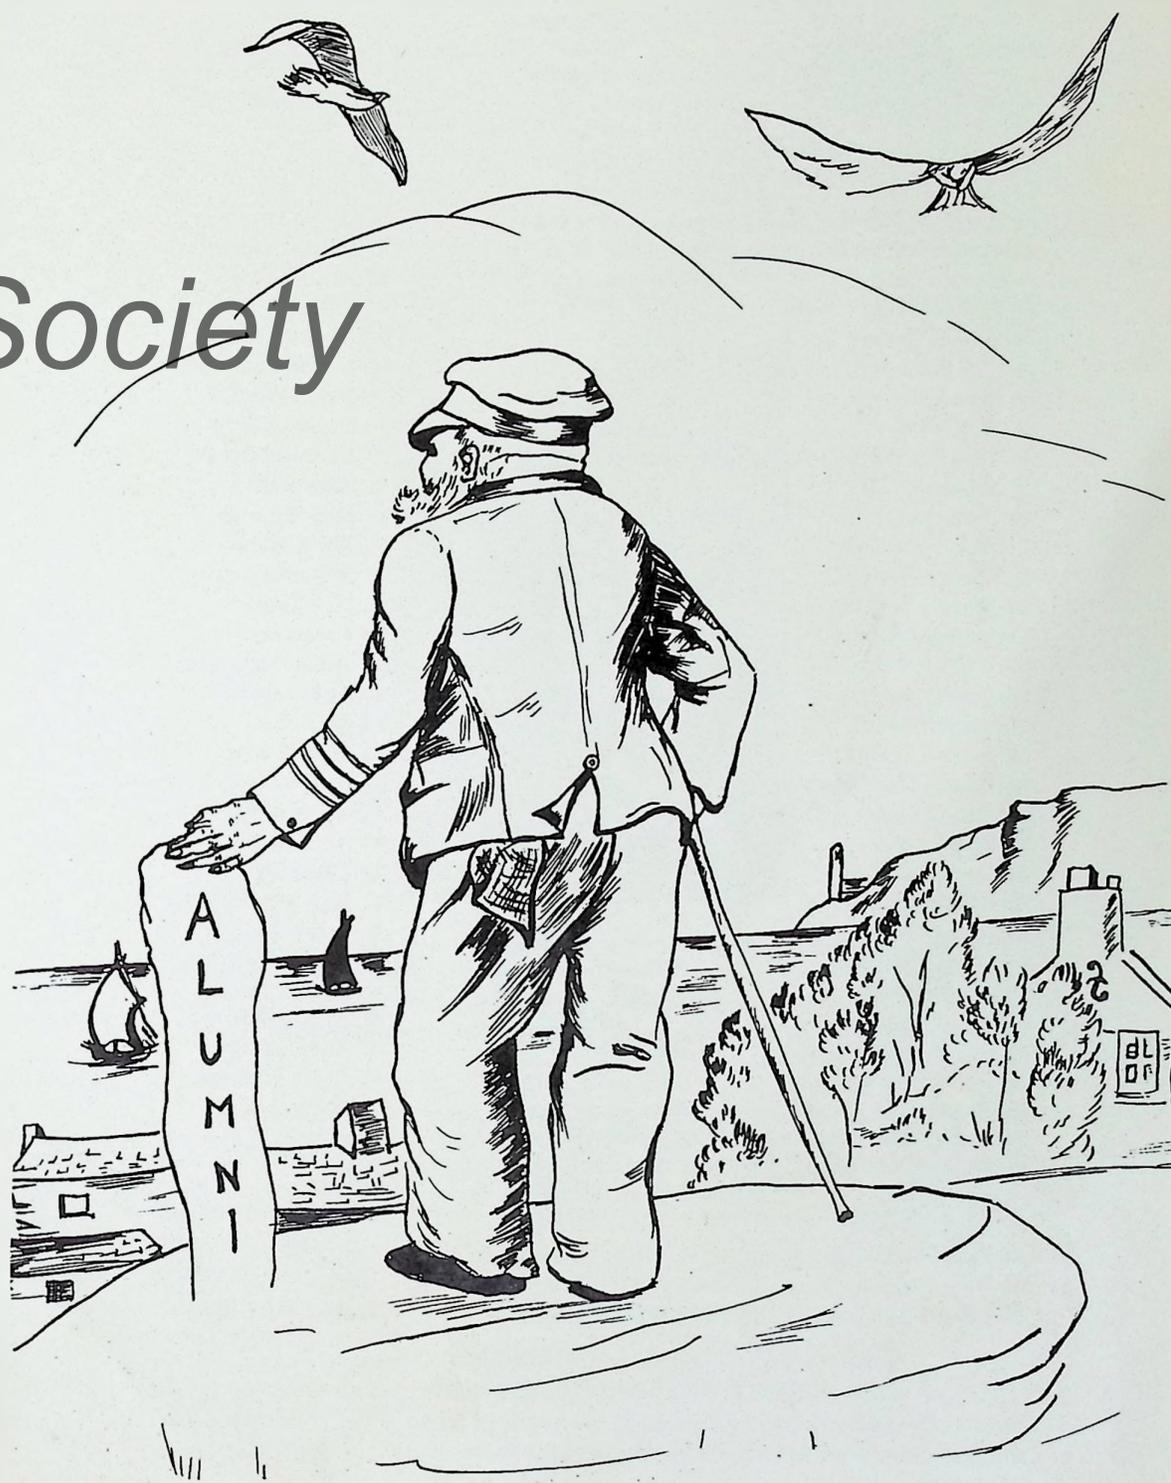

We, the class of 1942, have to this set our hand and seal this first day of April in the year of our Lord, one thousand, nine hundred, and forty-two.

The Class of '42.

GEORGE A. J. FROBERGER

The more recent graduates of Arms will be interested to hear that Mr. Froberger is once again in the armed forces of his country. He saw hard service in the First World War; and those who know him know that only a high sense of patriotic duty impelled him to enlist again.

He has done excellent work as Principal of the Rockland High School since leaving here. He has our respect and admiration, and our best wishes.

Class of 1892

FREDERICK ALLISON TUPPER
Principal 1887-1892

A few weeks before the class of 1892 was to observe its fiftieth anniversary, the newspapers announced the death of the principal who had guided its members through their four years course.

Mr. Tupper was the son of Rev. and Mrs. Samuel Tupper of Holliston. He attended the famous old Roxbury Latin School and went from there to Harvard College, where he graduated in 1880. He came to Arms in 1887, and before leaving in 1892 he married Grace E. Canedy, Arms 1889, who had been his pupil for two years.

After his terms of service as teacher in Worcester High School and as principal of the Irving High School, he was elected Headmaster of the Brighton High School in Boston, remaining there for twenty-nine years.

Mr. Tupper was well known in educational circles throughout the state because of his writings, his membership in numerous professional organizations and his effective work for the betterment of both pupils and teacher.

In 1892, fifty years ago, when this was just a row boat, thirteen people made round trips. Of these thirteen only six are now living. With the help of Miss Annie Swan we have found out as much as possible about them.

Winnie Carpenter is Mrs. C. A. Loomis and lives on South Maple Street. She has two children, both graduates of Arms, and two grandchildren. Annie Swan also lives in town — on Bridge Street.

Harry Goodell was the first death in the class. Mary Loomis died a few years later, leaving two children.

Luna Johnson is now living in Berkeley, California. She is the widow of Edward Fuller and has one son.

Before his death, Charles Canedy was a prominent doctor in Greenfield.

Nothing has been heard from Louise Dodge for a number of years, and no one seems to know her whereabouts.

Preston Comstock was editor of a newspaper in Elgin, Illinois, before his death. Laura Brown, manager of the Gift Shop at the Sweetheart Tea House, died in October 1937.

Grace Hicks was Mrs. E. L. Eldridge; she also is dead.

Lydia James is living in Granville, New York.

Minnie Mann has traveled widely since her marriage to Dr. Ernest Sweet. She spent many years in Honolulu and Germany, but now lives near Great Barrington, Mass. She has one son.

The death of George Merrill was the most recent in the class. He died in December, 1941. Before his death he was Superintendent of the Water Works in Ware, Massachusetts.

Class of 1917

It has been twenty-five years since the members of this class heard the last strains of the graduation march at Arms Academy, so here is the latest news on the class of 1917.

The members of this class furnished the editors with a great deal of interesting information about themselves, and it would have been a pleasure to print it in full, but war conditions have forced a reduction in the size of the book. We think that they will exchange that information personally at their reunion.

Sarah Alvord Frost is living in White Plains, New York, where she is Supervisor in the Long Distance division of the New York Telephone Company.

Kenneth Barnard married Ruth Freeze of Schenectady, New York, where he is now living.

Marjorie Haigis is now Mrs. Evan J. Lewis of Corning, New York. She has one daughter, Marjorie Ann.

Viloa Long, who is now Mrs. Ralph Ballow, is living in North Adams. She has one son.

Claire Smith is married to Wayne Oates, and they are living in Shelburne Falls, where they have a small farm. She has three daughters, Phyllis, Arms '39; Virginia, a Junior at Arms; and Nancy who is 12.

Vivian Booker is also living in Shelburne Falls. She was Senior Operator for Western New England Telephone Company in Shelburne Falls until 1940, when she was transferred to Greenfield.

Anna Finck at present is living in Shattuckville. She is employed in the outside office of the New England Telephone Company in Shelburne Falls.

Nellie Stone is Mrs. Donald A. Yandell. They are living in Union, New Jersey, where they have a small animal hospital. She has one son, John, who is now a Corporal in the United States Army.

Harriet Cromack is married to Orin Ball, and they have a farm in Shelburne. They have two children, Janet, who is a Junior at Arms, and Kenneth, who entered Arms with the class of '42.

— Harriet Cromack Ball

Class of 1922

It has been twenty years since the Class of 1922 first dropped anchor and made its way out into the world. It is interesting to find out some of the changes that have taken place since then.

In 1939, the class of '22 received the news of the death of two of their classmates — Francis Truesdell, on April 14, and Theodore Amidon, on May 4.

Before Francis Truesdell's death, he was employed by the Northampton State Hospital in the Dairy barns, and Theodore Amidon had just been promoted to Head of the Sales Department of Rollin J. Farr, Inc., in Greenfield before he died.

These, with the death of Marguerite Outhouse (Mrs. Arthur Simmonds) in 1936, make three deaths in the class.

Winthrop Anderson is manager of the David Maydole Tool Division of the Mayhew Steel Products Co., Norwich, N. Y. He has four children, the eldest a member of the present freshman class at Arms.

—Madeline Caron March

Class of 1937

Remember way back in 1937? This year's graduating class was still in Grammar School—5 years ago — Arms won the cheering cup and the seniors presented "Big Hearted Herbert". Well since that time a lot has happened to the people that graduated from Arms. Many of the boys are in the service. "Johnny" Phillips who was recently married to Alice Thompson of New Bedford, is in the Navy. Robert Shaw and John Herzig are in the Coast Artillery. The Army has most of them, though — Donald Fairbanks, "Pokey" Gadreault, "Bennie" Sepika, "Andy" Stafursky, Alex Kuzcmarski, "Eddie" Shippee, and Bob Munsinger.

"Freddie" Binder is a senior at Mass. State. On his week-ends at home he works for the Railway Express Company. George Mirick, (sometimes called "The Phantom Lumber Jack") is also at college. He is a senior at Franklin and Marshall in Lancaster, Pa.

"Donnie" Churchill is working as bookkeeper these days at the Potter Grain Store. Freddie Brown is another bookkeeper. He works for the New England Power Company.

Dan Cupid has certainly done his duty in this class, too.

Lalave Gammell is married to Leona Deanne. He works in Kendall Mills and has one son. Louise Bilger married Emil Hoengasser. They have a daughter, Sandra.

Mildred Cah is now Mrs. Donald Johnson. She is living in Brattleboro, Vermont.

Gordon Allen is married to Faith Gilmore. He is employed in the Leavitt Tool Company, in Orange where they are living.

✓ Gordon Long married Helen Dresser (Arms '39). They are farming in Shelburne, and have one son.

A Shelburne "farmerette" is Rachael Van Valkenburg who is now Mrs. Ernest Kelley (Arms '32). They have a daughter, Joyce.

On May 3, Laura Tower was married to Gilbert Allis of Whately, Mass. Before her marriage she was employed at the Kendall Mills in Griswoldville.

Helen Spencer is married to Sanford Jenks. They are living in town and have a son, Sanford Jr.

Ruth Cardwell is Mrs. Robert Wallner. She is now living on Chapman Street in Greenfield. Marie Needham is married to Charles Cetto. They are living on Main Street in town.

Katherine Pratt married Richard Powers. They are living in Southbridge, Mass.

"Babe" Halberg is married to Harold Haun in Hawley. She has been working as bookkeeper in Halberg's Market.

The class of 1937 has three nurses. "Casey" King graduated from Franklin County Hospital, and is now District Nurse in Colrain. Lucie Ellen Peterson is another graduate of Franklin County Hospital, and is now employed there. Myrtle Lyman, now Mrs. Harry Sharp, is District Nurse in Hancock, Mass.

"Jim" Cromack is in business with his father in Colrain, and his engagement to Kathleen King has been announced. Myron Fish is another Colrainite who is in business with his father.

"Bud" Avery graduated from the Boston Conservatory of Music and at present is working in a Boston Store.

Both Eunice Bettcher and Helen Potter graduated from North Adams Teachers College. Eunice has a teaching position in the Amherst school system, and Helen is teaching in Vermont.

A number of the graduates of this class are employed in Greenfield.

Grace Campbell is working in the Franklin County Trust Company. "Peg" Rogers is married to Howard Gadreault and is working at the Weldon Hotel.

Earl Purinton is employed by the Greenfield Parts Company. Theodore Herzig is employed in the Greenfield Tap and Die. "Ken" Davis is married to "Peg" LeBlanc also of this class. He works in the Greenfield Tap and Die and they live on Federal Street in Greenfield.

Before her marriage, "Peg" was a telephone operator in Shelburne Falls. Gloria Dumas is also living in Greenfield where she is employed. Margherita Garofalo is in the accounting division of the office of the Greenfield Tap and Die, and Norma Kelley who now lives in Greenfield is employed in the Tap and Die office too. Lawrence Shippee married June Streeter (Arms '38), and they are living on Ashfield Street in town. He is employed at the Greenfield Savings Bank.

"Pete" Stanford is employed by the Dickinson and Streeter Funeral Directors in Springfield, Mass.

"Joe" Yelle is working in the Kendall Mills in Griswoldville.

"Mally" Fidel is employed by the government in Washington, D. C. in the Social Security Department.

Catherine Hayes is keeping house for her father on Conway Street. Doris Burnap is working at the home of Mrs. Winifred Goodnow on Main Street.

Earl Carlson lives in Belleville, New Jersey, where he is employed by the Wright Aircraft Corporation.

Agnes Rancourt is secretary in the office of the Readsboro Chair Factory in Readsboro, Vt. June Gerry is another person who has taken advantage of her Commercial Course. She is employed in the office of the Western New England Telephone Company.

Edna Hitchcock is employed in the Mayhew Steel Products Plant.

We regret to say that Roy Bonnett's whereabouts are unknown at present.

George Mayer is working for Clarence Hall in Heath.

Burton Lynde is working on a farm in Pepperel, Mass. Harold Lynde is married to Nancy Loveland of Leyden. He is working for C. H. Dennison in Leyden where they live.

While we're on the subject of twins, Geraldine and Geneva Nye are waitresses way out in La Mesa, California.

Johnny Cherron is a lineman for the Telegraph Company in Pittsfield, Mass.

No matter how far our class may be scattered, I know that each member is united in the wishing the Class of 1942 success.

—Edna Hitchcock

Class of 1941

Just a year ago this little ship lowered its gangplank to bring safely ashore the class of 1941.

Many of the boys in this class have joined the Navy. The first enlistment was "Billy" Ayers on June 24th. He is now an aviation machinist's mate. The other sailors are Ernest Hale, Norman Burnett, Allen Cress, David Dyer, and Emerson Batchelder. This class also has two soldiers, Clark Bailey and Kenneth Miller, ("Bing" to you.)

The ship of matrimony also has been very popular with the girls of this class. Dorothy Burkard is now Mrs. Leo Dionne; Mabel Metcalf is Mrs. Ernest Hartwell. Both girls live in Greenfield. In August, Jane Shippee was married to Henry Boyd; Elsie Burnett married Harley Hunkler and lives in Heath; Katherine Schechterle is Mrs. Donald Pierce. They live on Sears Street where they have the cutest little new house and also the first baby of the class, born on March 23. Helen Needham also is married. She is Mrs. Richard Bardwell (Arms '36). Elaine Spencer was married to Cyrus Leise in February. Elaine works in the office of the Mayhew Tool Company. Also in February, Valentine's Day, Irene March married Private Tom Neary. The latest marriage in the class was Mae Cromack's in April. She is married to Eddie Moore and living in Shelburne.

Now let's get down to the land lubbers.

"Number please!" Yes, Rebecca Ainsworth is keeping the wires hot as telephone operator in Colrain, and "Callie",—oh, you all remember "Callie,"—another prominent Colrainite,—well, he's working, or, shall we say, employed, in the Greenfield Tap and Die. He fills up his spare time as assistant scout master in Colrain.

Lorraine Carter is watching the cherry trees bloom in Washintgon, where she is working as a Senior typist. The other girls of the class pounding the keys are Hazel Clark in Kendall Mills; Arlene Evans, Cecile Razine, Jean Dunnell, and Edith Scott, in the Greenfield Tap and Die; "Ginny" Herzig in the Millers Falls Tool Company; Jane Scott in Mr. Buker's office; and Charlotte Walden in the Lamson and Goodnow Cutlery.

That's what you get for just running in and out of the supply closet for a couple of years—a nice easy job, in a nice comfortable office. Pretty soft!

"Dick" Mitchell and Earle Miller are using their high pressure salesmanship to boost Bond Bread sales, and "Hank" Giguere is keeping them rolling as mechanic in the Bond garage in Greenfield. Calvin Rogers is also working in Greenfield, doing his bit as janitor in Reed Apartments.

Helen Chamberlain is learning to be "Somebody's Stenog" at Becker College; Kathleen Koonz is doing the same at Bryant College in Providence; and Arlene Wood is also in Providence — at Pembroke College in Brown University.

"Tissy" Cress is studying at the Sargent School of Boston University to be a Physical Education instructor. Maybe she'll be back at Arms some day. Who knows? Madeline Chamberlain is at Colby Junior College in New London, New Hampshire, studying to be a laboratory technician. Up in Vermont is Claire Hebard, at Castleton Normal. Maybe she'll be back at Arms, too.

Bob Haeberle is another "Campus Cut-up" — at Mass. State.

Henry Johnson attended Northeastern University for one-half year, and is now in the undertaking business with his father.

While Marion Lee and Ruth Bjork are studying to be governesses at Vanderheyden Hall in Troy, N. Y., Phyllis Coombs is practicing the art at Pierce's, on Gerret Street in Greenfield. (More fun). Also on the domestic side is Anna Leise at Phillip Bellor's in Heath.

Henry Dandeneau, who always did have a special interest in this year's graduating class, is time-keeper at Westover Field.

Julia Lynch is getting ready to keep 'em healthy (we hope) by training at the Franklin County Hospital. This class really ought to get medical attention in the future because Helen Shaw, now taking a P. G. course, has passed an examination for the Deaconess Hospital in Boston. Ada Landstrom, also taking a P. G., is considering going in training with Nada Corey. (Remember that cute little Southern Belle from Heath? Well, she's back in Florida now.) The other "P. G.ers" are Eddie Howson and Pete Ferrari. We don't quite understand Eddie, but we know Pete has "method in his madness."

Many in this class have found jobs in defense. These jobs haven't gone exclusively to the boys either. Gerlad Shippee and "Benny" Francis work in the Greenfield Tap and Die; Donald Connelley, Lucy Bates, Anne Munsinger, Wilfred Coutu, and Alvin Churchill in the Kendall Mills; Phillip Shulda in Threadwell Tap and Die; and Anna Hillman in the Millers Falls Tool Company.

Mary Jane Johnson, another ex-"Heathan", is working as an accountant in McClellan's, in New York City.

If you would like a yard of percale and the credentials of the male, white, and 21, contact Helen Yelle, Eastern Textile Co., Greenfield, Mass. Another sales girl is Mary Hill — in the new Clear-Weave store in Greenfield.

Nathalie Smith and Nancy Williams are still sticking together down in Springfield at American International College.

Seven boys of the class are taking advantage of their "Aggie" course — Ed Bellows, David Ballard, Alfred Hillman, Gerald Wall, Bob Goodnow, Harry Valiton, and Douglas Stetson. Harry Stafursky was working in the Millers Falls Tool Company, but he, too, decided tilling the soil was a nobler work. Donald McBride, another former "Aggie" boy, is working for the Turners Falls Light and Power Company, and David Geddis, last but certainly not least, (1941's class president, you know) is working for the Worthington Pump Company in Holyoke, — I had quite a time finding out that last one 'cause every time I asked anyone "What's David Geddis doing?", all I could get for an answer was "Going with Glesca Lang"!

NORTHEASTERN UNIVERSITY

College of Liberal Arts

Offers young men a broad program of college subjects serving as a foundation for the understanding of modern culture, social relations, and technical achievement. The purpose of this program is to give the student a liberal and cultural education and a vocational competence which fits him to enter some specific type of useful employment.

College of Business Administration

Offers young men a college program with broad and thorough training in the principles of business with specialization in Accounting, Journalism, Banking and Finance, Public Administration, Industrial Administration or Marketing and Advertising. Instruction is through lectures, solution of business problems, class discussions, motion pictures and talks by business men.

College of Engineering

Provides for young men complete college programs in Engineering with professional courses in the fields of Civil, Mechanical (with Aeronautical, and Air Conditioning options), Electrical, Chemical, and Industrial Engineering. General engineering courses are pursued during the freshman year; thus the student need not make a final decision as to the branch of engineering in which he wishes to specialize until the beginning of the sophomore year.

Co-operative Plan

The Co-operative Plan, which is available to upperclassmen in all courses, provides for a combination of practical industrial experience with classroom instruction. Under this plan the student is able to earn a portion of his school expenses as well as to make business contacts which prove valuable in later years.

Due to the national emergency our sales of new cars are necessarily limited to those few who perform a vital public service. We are maintaining, however, a competent service organization, and have at present a limited supply of excellent used car buys. Proper care will lengthen the life of your present car during this critical period. See us regularly for all of your service needs or for a better used car.
