ALMA MATER
Shelburne Historical Society

Oh, Arms, our Alma Mater,
All hail to thee all hail!
Behind thee stands the tower,
Before thee leads the trail.
Thy sons and daughters ever
Thy praises loud will sing;
Oh, Arms, our Alma Mater,
Accept our offering.

We love thee, dear old Arms,
Thy colors red and white;
Where'er our work may call us,
Thy memory shall be bright.
We'll ever guard thy honor
And true to thee we'll be;
Oh, Arms, our Alma Mater,
All hail, all hail, to thee!

ARMS ACADEMY

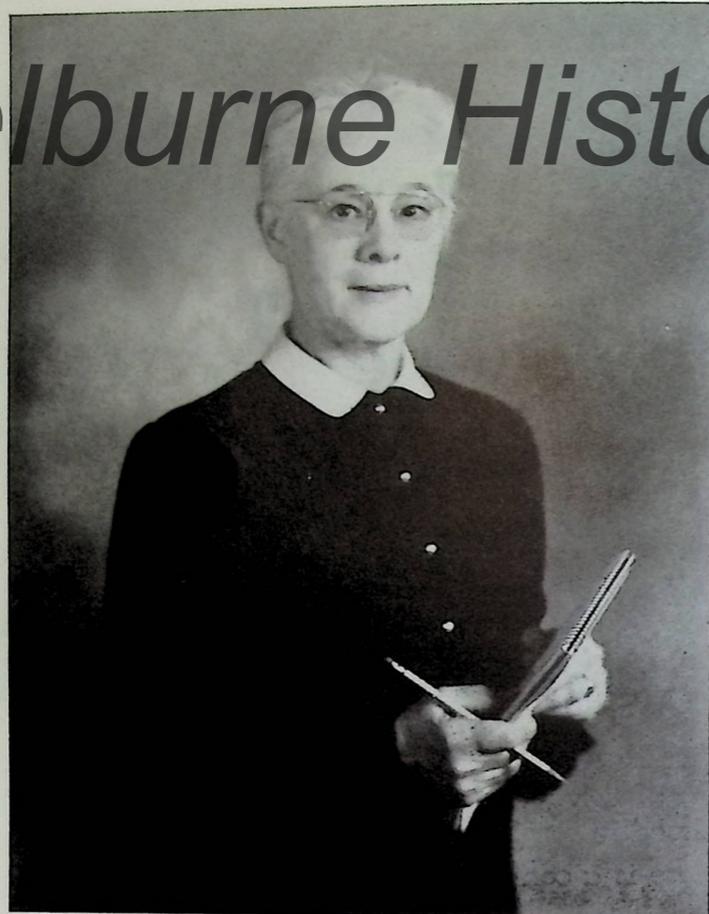

"Oh, Arms, our Alma Mater". How many times these words have echoed in our hearts during our four years. Within your walls, there is a continuous whirl of events which make up the school year. Here we have spent four years advancing our education not only by studying, but also by participating in extra-curricular events. It is through your doors we enter as freshmen and leave as seniors.

May thy memory ever be bright, oh, Arms!

DEDICATION

Shelburne Historical Society

To you, we the class of 1952 wish to demonstrate our appreciation for your willing cooperation, your never-ending patience, your friendliness to all, and your loyal, conscientious, and faithful service to our class. It is with great pleasure that we dedicate our yearbook to you, Mrs. Malah R. Murray.

FOREWORD

By means of an Alma Mater, praises are sung to a school. The singing of the Alma Mater by an undergraduate arouses enthusiasm and school spirit. The singing of the Alma Mater by a graduate brings back fond memories. In repeating the words to our Alma Mater once more, we have tried to present the memories of the year 1951-1952.

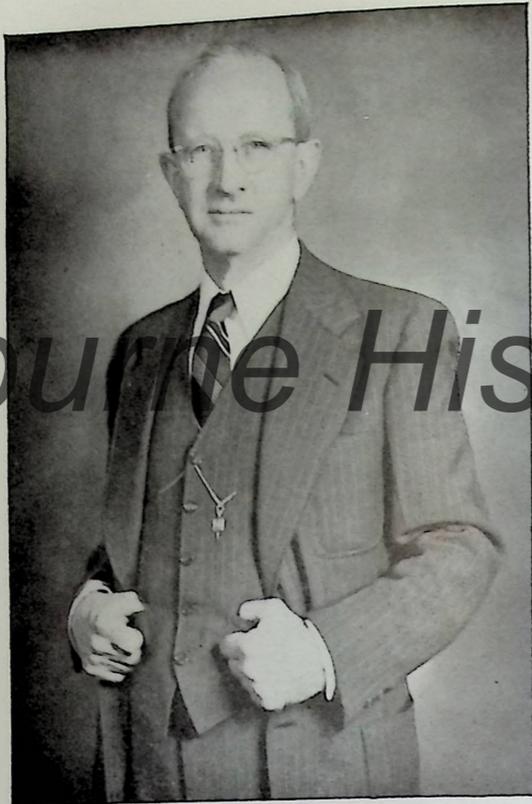

The entire staff who worked wholeheartedly to make this yearbook possible, sincerely hopes you will enjoy it as much as we have enjoyed preparing its contents.

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

Any stranger coming into a close acquaintance with Arms Academy is impressed at the start with a difference between it and the usual high school. This difference is in the friendliness and cooperation of its pupils and teachers and trustees and in the loyalty of its alumni.

If that stranger has ever had much contact with any of the old endowed academies that were once so numerous here in New England, he knows the reason for it. In them the spirit of generosity and mutual cordiality that inspired their founders was transmitted to the pupils and was remembered by them long after they left the classrooms, better men and women for having known it. Fortunately that spirit persists in Arms today.

The theme of this book is our school song which, like the school itself, shows the spirit of its founders. "Behind thee stands the tower," a symbol of the school and its training; "Before thee leads the trail," a path to a future; "Thy sons and daughters ever thy praises loud will sing," expressions of their loyalty; "Accept our offering," our continuing interest in the younger generations that come here to receive what was given to us.

SENIOR PLAY

"Captain Applejack"

When J. Snead as respectable Ambrose Applejohn, who lives with his Aunt Agatha, (B. Maynard) looks for adventure, it enters in the guise of G. Herzig, Anna Valeska, a Russian dancer, with tales of Bolsheviks, spies, and treasures. Next come B. Ormond and D. Sandri as the mysterious Mr. and Mrs. Pengard who are, quite evidently, up to no good. B. Germain follows soon after as Borolsky, the Russian spy.

Burglars enter the house but leave when Ambrose and his ward, M. Messer (Poppy Faire) awake. The telephone wires are cut and the house is in a lonely spot on the coast. There is a secret cupboard, an ancient parchment, and a hidden treasure. While guarding this parchment, Ambrose falls asleep, dreaming he is Captain Applejack, his pirate ancestor. Borolsky, Anna, Pengard, and a pirate crew people his dream with Poppy as his cabin boy.

Soon after Ambrose awakes, the burglars return for the parchment. He is threatened. Anna and Borolsky and a fake cop, Dennet, (A. Coombs) are in cahoots with the rest of the burglars (the Pengards). Ambrose's friend Johnny Jason (H. Gould) enters with startling news and leaves on the run for the Coast Guards. Ambrose tricks the burglars into believing the telephone wires have been repaired. In triumph the curtain falls as Ambrose sweeps Poppy into his arms.

Arms Academy Student Association

The Arms Academy Student Association, usually called the A.A.S.A., is the organization behind most of our school activities. By purchasing an A.A.S.A. ticket a student or a member of the faculty gains admittance to all athletic events played during the year.

The A.A.S.A. conducted the discussion on raising the dues, which were changed from $1.80 to $3.00. We also conducted the Good Government election and campaign speeches to elect our officers for the following year.

The officers for 1951-1952 were: President: Harold Gould; Vice-President: June Goodnow; Secretary: Carolyn York; Treasurer: Donald Avery; Assistant Treasurer: Dexter Shearer; Representatives to Student Council: Roger Temple and Barbara Anderson.

Student Council

The Student Council has done its usually fine job of handling school affairs this year. Among the Council's many jobs were the organizing of Booster Day with the help of the Alumni, the selling of refreshments at the Kiwanis Tournament, and the discussions of school problems.

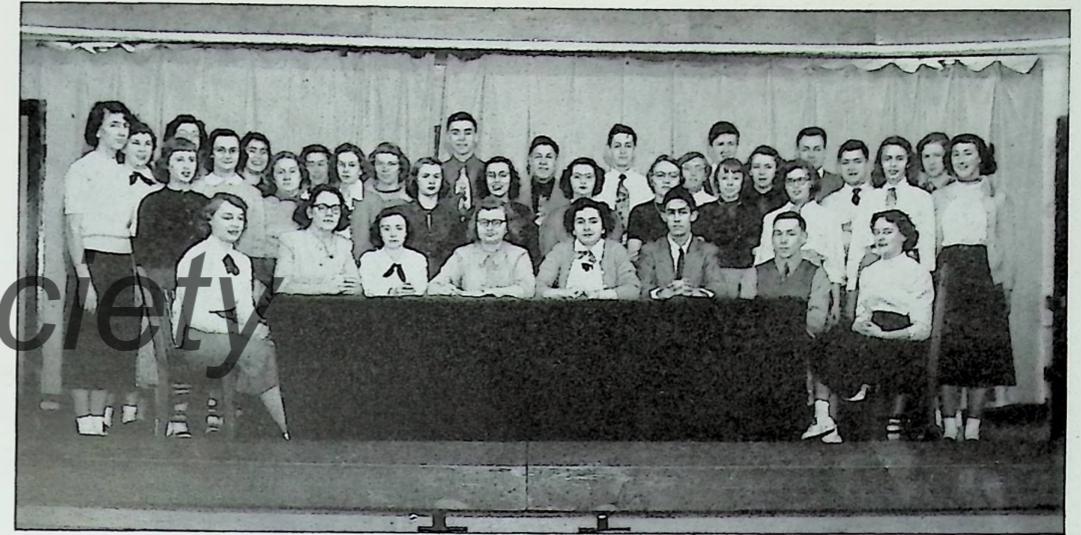

The Council's weekly sessions held on Wednesdays during the Activities Period were attended by its fifteen members who represent the four classes, the A.A.S.A., Pro Merito, the "Student" and the "Sentinel". Mr. Frude was the advisor.

The officers chosen for the year 1951-1952 were: Jonathan Snead, President; Harold Gould, Vice-President; Carolyn York, Secretary.

First Row — A. Swenson, I. Samorajski, H. Gould, J. Snead, C. York, B. Anderson, M. Davenport.
 Second Row — J. Cress, R. Temple, L. Rancourt, Mr. Frude, A. Coombs, J. Phelps, R. Jackman, R. Parks.

THE SENTINEL

First Row — B. Totman, E. Groves, J. Coombs, I. Samorajski, A. Streeter, D. Greason, C. Totman, M. Messer.
 Second Row — A. Davenport, J. Wilde, N. Ferrari, M. Booker, H. Wishart, J. Coombs, A. St. Jacques, C. Lincoln, J. Gagnon, C. Coburn, G. Totman, L. Gould, F. Boutwell, H. Amcott, J. Miller.
 Third Row — M. Woodsome, Miss Smith, M. Donelson, H. Herzig, M. Kenney, J. Scott, H. Bush, F. Zagrubski, G. Browne, Mr. Vaitones, P. Mead, S. Kelleher.

This year the "Sentinel" has been published approximately every ten days. Although the usual price of thirty-five cents per year was again in effect, the "Sentinel" was greatly improved over the issues of former years. Featuring editorials written on teen-age problems, dances, assemblies, write ups on school organizations and many other interesting articles, the "Sentinel" was enjoyed by a great number of students.

The "Sentinel" staff under the direction of Miss Smith and Mr. Vaitones worked industriously throughout the year. Although many articles were contributed by many different students, the following staff shared most of the work.

- Editor-in-chief: Irene Samorajski
- Associate Editors: David Greason, Arlene Streeter, and Joyce Coombs
- Columnist: Althea Davenport
- Business Manager: Conrad Totman
- Art Editor: Barbara Totman
- Sports Editor, Exchange Manager: Elaine Groves
- Circulation Manager: James Scott

CHEERLEADERS

First Row — P. Shaw, A. St. Jacques, J. Coombs, E. Davenport.

Second Row — M. Stone, N. Ferrari, J. Goodnow, M. Messer.

Present at almost every game of the season, the cheerleaders did their part toward inspiring a better school spirit. New motions, assembly programs, and new cheers were the high spots of the year. Booster Day was one of the special occasions for the cheerleaders to shine. Leaving this year are June Goodnow and Marion Messer, but Gail Totman and Phyllis Copley are ready to take their places. Continuing varsity cheerleaders are Natalie Ferrari, Jean Coombs, Phyllis Shaw, Esther Davenport, Ann St. Jacques, and Mary Stone.

TWIRLERS

A very striking part of the school band are the twirlers. In their flashing red and white uniforms they will be seen strutting down the street no matter what the weather may be.

In the past year they put on a fine display at the football games, both home and away, and also at two home basketball games.

Five of the twirlers are graduating. They are the head majorette, Barbara Anderson; the head twirler, Diane Sandri; and also Theresa Galipo, Audrey Broadhurst, and Dorothy Tobey. Continuing twirlers are Harriet Shepherd, Barbara Peters, Marilyn Shippee, Carol Graziola and Claire Ferguson.

First Row — M. Shippee, C. Graziola, C. Ferguson, A. Broadhurst, B. Anderson, D. Tobey, T. Galipo, B. Peters, H. Shepherd, Fifth Row — R. Temple, M. Peck, W. Donelson, H. Gould, R. Ward, J. Snead.

This year the band has 42 members in its organization. The band, under the direction of Mr. Smithers, has given its usual excellent showing at many functions.

At every football game this year the band did a fine performance in marching and making attractive letter formations. It also performed at the following places: the Heath Fair, the home basketball games; the Senior Play, the one-act plays, the Hallowe'en rag-shag parade, the Franklin County Music Festival, the Western Massachusetts Music Festival, Memorial Day, the Spring Concert, and at the Commencement exercises.

THE CHORUS

The chorus under the direction of Mr. Smithers had one hundred and thirty-two members which shows that a large majority of our students appreciate this musical offering.

Some of the main songs of the Spring Concert this year were: "With a Song in My Heart," "Music, a Link With God," "The Halls of Ivy," "You'll Never Walk Alone," and "The Forest Hymn".

This was the first year that the boys and the girls had been divided into separate groups for specialty numbers. One of the boys' specialty songs was "Corn Field Medlies" and the girls' specialty was "All the Things You Are."

First Row — B. Shaw, A. St. Jacques, C. Ferguson, E. Davenport, S. Mongeau, H. Amnott, P. Albee, C. Hume, M. Brown, M. Donelson, M. Woodsome, H. Wishart, R. Winn, S. Swisstek, J. Wilde.

The reading room and the library assistants were those students who very willingly spared their valuable time in study hall to care for our library and reading room.

In the library and located in the rear of the main room are reference books, encyclopedias and dictionaries. In the reading room located in the front part of the main room are magazines, maps, newspapers, and the school's fiction and non-fiction books.

A special word of praise should be given to those who devoted their spare time working in these two rooms.

Once again the F.F.A. has been surging ahead by leaps and bounds. With our two new instructors, Mr. Lawrence and Mr. Giffin, we have had an abundance of new ideas and have been working hard.

To start the year off right, at the Greenfield Fair we set up a booth display in the round-house for which we took first prize. In the display were samples of all the various projects we have in our agricultural work.

As soon as the Greenfield Fair was over we had our own F.F.A. Fair in the Cowell Gym. We expanded it this year to include a livestock show along with our many displays of fruit and vegetables and the fine commercial exhibits.

In judging this year we have fared very well, taking high honors at Northampton Fair, and the preliminary state contest at Amherst. Several members ranked high enough to be in the state finals held in the spring.

Our delegate to the national F.F.A. Convention in Kansas City, Missouri, this year was Franklin Woodard who sang in the National F.F.A. chorus.

One of our graduate members, Donald G. Davenport of Shelburne, received the highest degree of the Future Farmers of America organization this year. The award was presented to him at the 24th national convention in Kansas.

Chapter officers for the year were:

President: Allyn Coombs	Treasurer: Roy Goldthwaite
Vice-President: Richard Ward	Reporter: Richard Kingsbury
Secretary: Franklin Woodard	Sentinel: Malcolm Corse

We had some very interesting club meetings which were held twice a month. These meetings consisted of movies, a Valentine party and a panel discussion on teen-age problems submitted by the club members. All the Seniors were given "Boston Cooking School" cook books.

HIS FIRST SHAVE

The Freshman play was chiefly about Don Judson, played by Frederick Mazanec, who with his first shave, obviously not needed, changed over night from a bashful mamma's boy into an aggressive young "wolf." His bewildered mother was played by Shirley Miller; Joseph Gordon appeared as his disgusted father; and Grandma Judson, who took everything in her stride, was played very capably by Elaine Call.

The romance in the cast was finished by the double date with Dudley Ferrari as Harry Hollister, Sheila Mongeau as Betty Kenyon, and Claire Ferguson as Marion Hawley. Carol Coburn was Hanna Totz, the maid, and Anne McQuade was the teasing little sister Janey. Miss Chase directed the play, and the student coaches were Bennett Barr, Eleanor Call, Barbara Totman, and Esther Davenport.

THE SOPHOMORE SCANDALS OF 1951

The Sophomore Class presented something a little different — a musical show in which most of the class took part.

The scene was set in a drug store with Ralph Corliss playing the part of "Stretch," the soda jerk. A chorus of several class members played a part in the whole show, while specialty acts, including instrumentals, solos, and a tap dance duet, were the highlights of the show. The chorus sang several numbers such as "On the Sunny Side of the Street," "Ain't She Sweet," "May the Good Lord Bless and Keep You," and "Zing, Zing, Zoom, Zoom," Mr. King had charge, while Jean Crafts, Shirley Copley, and Shirley Signor were the student coaches.

HUNG JURY

Suspense hung high when the Juniors presented "Hung Jury" under the direction of Mr. Thompson, faculty advisor, and Barbara Baller and John Kelleher, student directors.

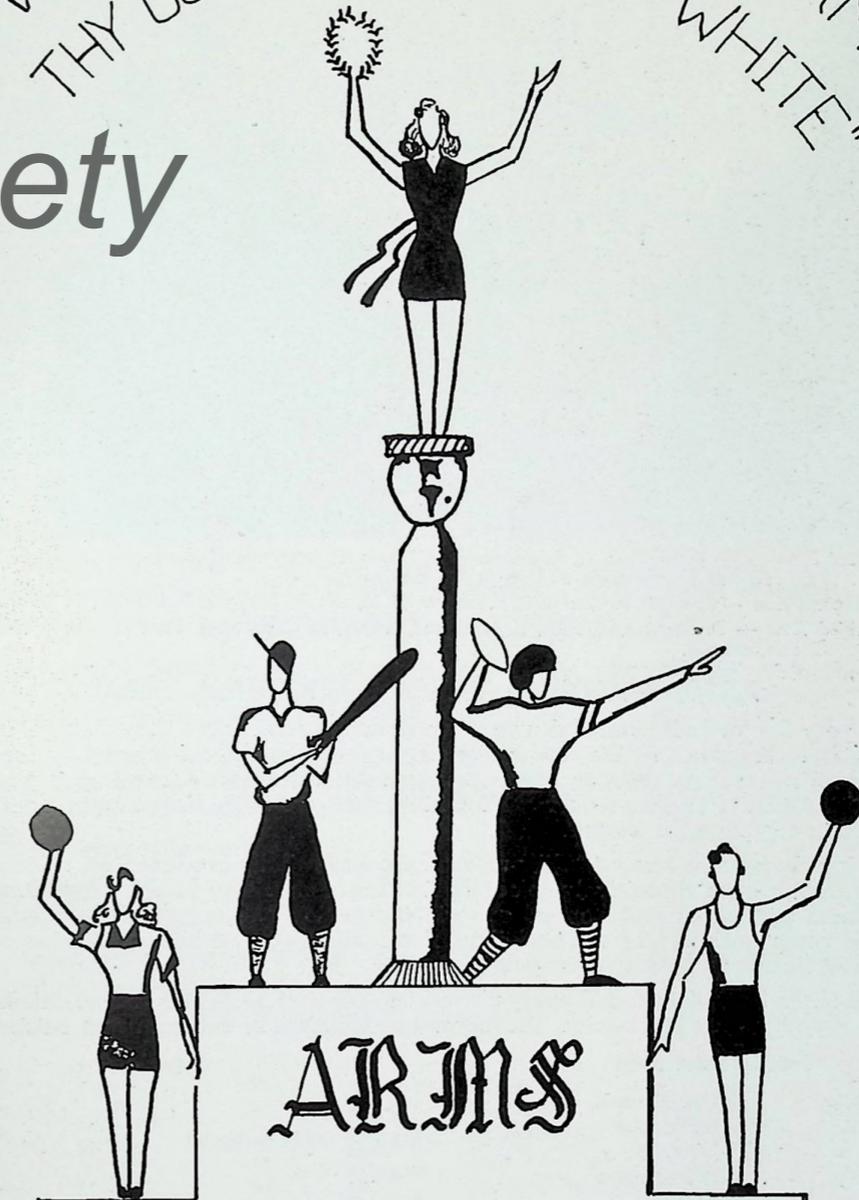

The play took place in a jury room where Henry Mergue, played by Jonathan Snead, was trying first, by influence, and second, by force, to make the jurors vote his way. Robert Germain as Bolond was Mergue's right hand man. Mary Prentiss, played by Gail Herzig, was a young girl determined to vote her own way. Finally her courage won out. Others in the play were: Allyn Coombs, Marion Messer, Roger Temple, Daniel Miner, Robert Ormond, Harold Gould, Paula Pilkington, Althea Davenport, and Arlene Streeter.

ARMS ACADEMY VARSITY FOOTBALL TEAM

This year the football team had a very successful season under the tutelage of the new coach, William Munson. At the start of the season, only 16 players showed up for the initial practice session. As the practice sessions progressed, more boys showed up to play with the final accumulation of players reaching 25. Of this total, two of the boys dropped out of school, leaving 23 to complete the season.

Starting the season against Williamstown, the boys really produced an all-round attack and a spirited defense to decisively defeat the first four teams they faced. Then Orange put a spirited team against us and stopped our winning tactics, but ceased to put out our fire and spirit. We came back to take our traditional rival, Deerfield, by a convincing shut-out to wind up the most successful season in the past few years.

Without the help of each and every player, linemen and backs, the season definitely would not have ended in such fine fashion. The teamwork and spirit of the team was outstanding.

We congratulate you upon the completion of your High School course. Your diploma is a symbol of a wise investment in permanent values—values that will be a sound foundation for continued growth, wherever you go, whatever you do.

Sometime in the future you will have a need for tools—for your job, or your hobby, or home repairs. When this time comes, look for the Millers Falls trademark—the symbol of permanency on tools. Since 1868 we have constantly searched for better materials, designs, and finishes to give lifetime utility to the tools we manufacture. Given reasonable care these tools will "season" in use, taking on a character all your own and will be lifetime friends known and proven by the work they perform.
