100 YEARS

IRA ARMS

Major Ira Arms, the benefactor of Arms Academy, left a trust fund of $20,000 for the founding of an academy which would "foster intellectual, moral, and religious growth among the youth of the community." As a result of this fund and a grant of land Arms Academy was incorporated in 1860, yet the original private institution, Arms Academy, was not built until some twenty years after his death. To Ira Arms we owe our gratitude for the establishment of the public high school which now annually enrolls approximately 300 students.

The lessons

This year marks the 100th anniversary of the incorporation of Arms Academy. Time has made its inevitable changes. Since the first building, known as the Academy building, two more have been added—Science Hall and Cowell Gymnasium. Instead of just one curriculum, as in the old days, Arms Academy now has six, namely College Preparatory, Commercial, General, Industrial Arts, Household Arts, and Agriculture.

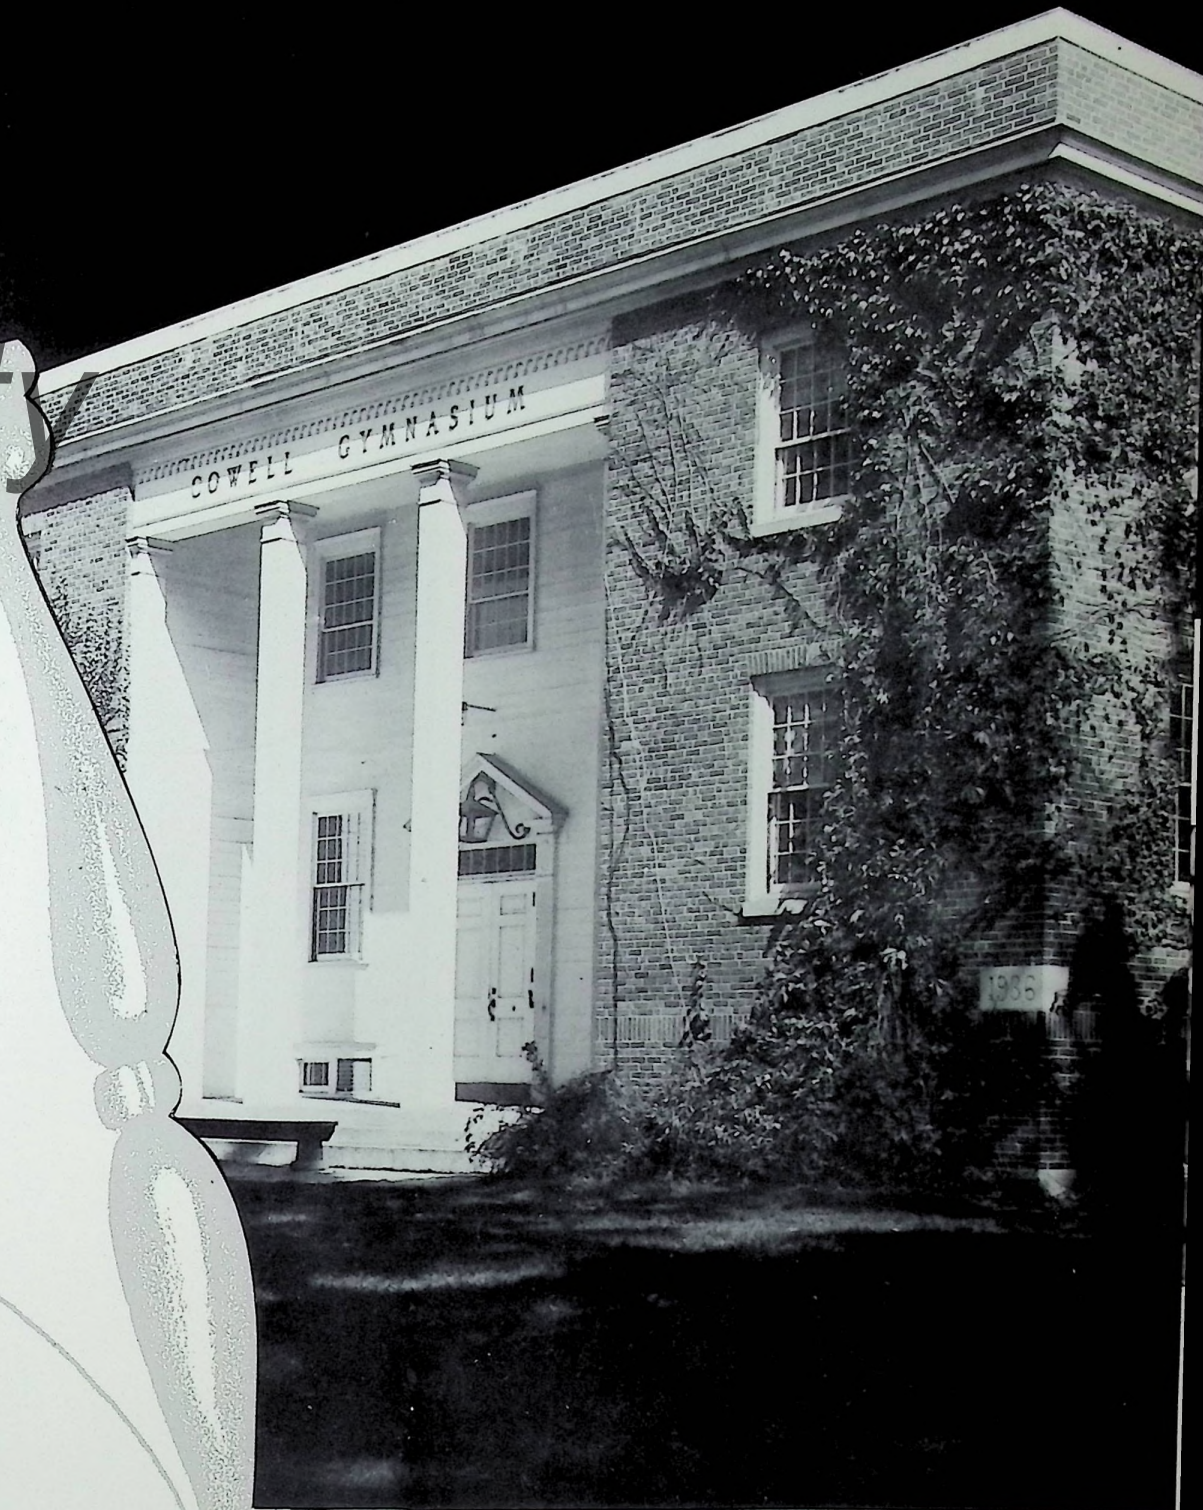

Although the subjects and the methods by which they are taught have undergone changes, Arms Academy has continued to uphold its reputation of training young people in citizenship and scholarship.

Longfellow's motto—"Be a leader"—has always been the school's aim.

A teacher affects eternity; he can never tell where his influence stops.

Charles A. Beattie

OUR PRINCIPAL SPEAKS

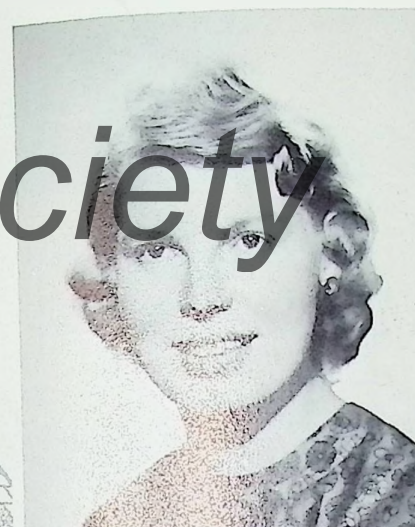

Time, although it seems like an eternity, passes much too quickly. Because of continuous study and perseverance, to the graduate this year marks a real conquest in his educational goal. The well-honored diploma can become a key to his future. Therefore, while participating in life's drama, he must always remember that the wise use of time can be the difference between success or failure. Just as his step-by-step progress through school was measured by time, his continuous growth in life will likewise be measured by this same factor. In the one hundred years since its incorporation, Arms Academy has educated many young men and women who have gone out into the world and taken their rightful place as outstanding citizens. Members of the class of 1960 now take their places among this group.

THE SENIOR CLASS

Often the final year at Arms seems to leave very little time for taking a deep breath. Activities such as the rehearsals and production of the senior play, the last opportunity to act as host to the under-classmen and faculty at the Christmas Formal, as well as the innumerable tasks involved in the publication of the Arms Student, take the time and best efforts of many.

Student aptitude tests, picture-taking, and maintaining or raising scholastic marks, add to the lengthy preparation for the final week of events in June--the Class Banquet, Class Day, and finally Graduation. All provide a very busy schedule for Seniors at Arms.

THE ARMS ALMA MATER

Oh, Arms, our Alma Mater,
All hail to thee, all hail!
Behind thee stands the tower,
Before thee leads the trail.
Thy sons and daughters ever
Thy praises loud will sing.
Oh, Arms, our Alma Mater,
Accept our offering.

We love thee, dear Old Arms
Thy colors, red and white,
Where 'er our work may call us
Thy memory shall be bright.
We'll ever guard thy honor,
And true to thee we'll be,
Oh, Arms, our Alma Mater,
All hail! All hail to thee!

JUNIOR CLASS

During their junior year, students prepare to obtain their drivers' licenses. The Junior Prom is sponsored by the junior class. If the students qualify in scholarship and character, they are eligible to be inducted into the National Honor Society. This year, many of the students select the colleges they wish to attend.

THE SOPHOMORE CLASS

The Sophomores have now learned to adapt themselves to their studies and, therefore, strive to make the most of their opportunities. During this year the sophomores have a chance to succeed in both studies and sports. Since they are now upper-classmen, sophomores can help acquaint the freshmen with Arms. This, the second year, is the time when most pupils become active students at Arms Academy.

THE FRESHMAN CLASS

When the freshmen entered high school, they were faced with many responsibilities, the greatest of which was to live up to the high standards of Arms Academy. In the fall, they were welcomed with the Freshmen Reception which helped to acquaint them with the faculty and upper classmen.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Last June new members were inducted into the National Honor Society. "The object of this chapter shall be to create an enthusiasm for scholarship, to stimulate a desire to render service, to promote worthy leadership, and to encourage the development of character in students of Shelburne High School." Probationary members are chosen at the end of their sophomore year and become active members at the end of their junior year if they have maintained a scholastic average of 85.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Arms Academy Student Council is composed of three members from each class-president, vice president, and representative to student council; the editor-in-chief of the yearbook; and one member from the National Honor Society.

Guided this year by Mr. Hale, these students have played a vital role in and around the school by sponsoring various activities and striving to attain a solution to all problems which have arisen during the school year.

DRIVERS' EDUCATION

Along with the changing times, new courses have been added to the curriculum at Arms. One of these is Driver Education, a course dedicated to putting safer and better informed drivers on the highways. Under the guidance of Mr. Palmeri, Driver Education has become one of the most popular extra-curricular courses at Arms.

The members of the chorus, with Mr. Smithers as director and John Jacobs as pianist, spend many hours in preparation for the annual spring concert. Some of the purposes of the chorus are to learn to sing as a group and to have an enjoyable time while blending voices. The spring concert is one of the foremost events of the year, and to delight the audience is the main objective.

FUTURE FARMERS OF AMERICA

Arms Academy has always been proud to tell of one of its outstanding organizations, Future Farmers of America. Under the skillful guidance of their teacher, Mr. Ernest Giffin, the group has brought honor and recognition to our school. Being enrolled in the Massachusetts Association of Future Farmers, the members of this club deserve much praise and admiration.

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA

The Future Teachers' Club has completed a very successful second year. Visitations to a teachers' college and the Buckland-Shelburne Regional School, where the opportunity for actual practice teaching was offered upper-classmen, highlighted the year's activities.

This club attempts to aid in choosing and attaining a rewarding career.

DEBATE CLUB

The Debate Club, under the guidance of Mr. Meyers, is a relatively new extra-curricular activity at Arms. Arms played host to the Connecticut Valley League, of which it is a member, on December 9, 1959. A trophy is given by the Lyons Club of Holyoke to the team that wins the most debates.

ART CLUB

Art appreciation has been, and always will be, a "must" in any well-rounded education. With Mr. Shea as advisor, the Art Club explores such aspects of art as painting, sketching, and the drawing of portraits.

MAGAZINE DRIVE

This year's magazine drive was a great success. Sales went over the goal of $2500.00 by $760.00. All the profits made are used for such items as tape recorders, record players, paid assembly programs, and some athletic equipment. By participating in this magazine drive, the students learned the values of good salesmanship, perseverance, and school spirit.

DRAMATIC CLUB

The dramatic club, directed by Miss Saunders, is a new venture here at Arms. The purpose of the club is to give those students interested in dramatics an opportunity to become familiar with the various aspects of play production. The members, consisting of twelve students, have presented a Christmas skit and several other assembly programs. In the future as these students become more experienced performers, a greater variety of dramatic types will be offered.

JOAN LAWLESS CROWNED QUEEN

Friday, October 16, a rally was held to initiate the Booster Day at which the queen and her court were announced: Joan Lawless, queen; Joann King, Anne Looney, and Joyce Stanley, members of the court.

On Saturday a parade to Cricket Field preceded the kick-off of the game with Ludlow. This kept us in suspense until the last minute.

A dance that evening concluded the Booster Day events.

"Oh, Arms, our Alma Mater!"

The traditional Christmas trees and holiday decorations adorned the Gym this year, depicting a scene from a "Winter Wonderland". The Queen, surrounded by her radiant court, ruled from a bower of evergreens.

Music, by the orchestra of Bill Reum, set the scene for an evening of sociability among friends. When the strains of the last dance ended, the Seniors left with the pleasant feeling that comes from a job well done.

HAWAIIAN SUNSET

The theme of the 1959 Junior Prom was "Hawaiian Sunset," an advance compliment to our new fiftieth state. To the musical accompaniment of Bill Maloy's orchestra dancing was enjoyed under a canopy of blue with an impressive tropical sunset.

Katherine Coburn, escorted by Carl Porrovecchio, was crowned queen. Court attendants were Linda Pollard and June Pilkington of the Junior class. The Prom was certainly a memorable affair from all points of view.

BASKETBALL TEAM

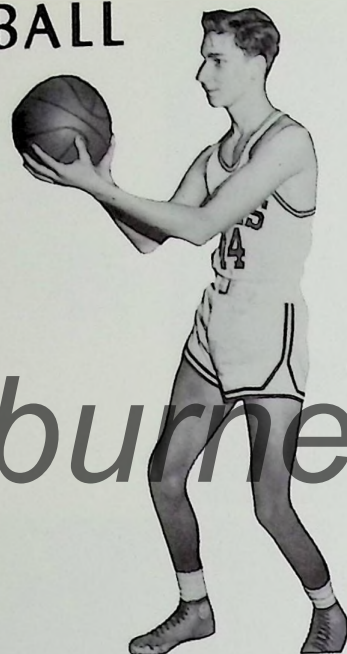

This year the girls' basketball team showed real high-school spirit and interest. Under the skillful guidance of Mrs. Schumaker these girls practiced with regularity and diligence in an attempt to perfect their playing. These enthusiastic girls are continually adding to Arms Academy's glories by their display of good sportsmanship.

After starting on what appeared to be a season without victory, the team's combined effort brought about the defeat of both Pioneer and Frontier. Each game showed a noticeable improvement over the preceding matches, which was evidence of the continued efforts of Coach MacLeod and the basketball team.

CHEERLEADERS

These ten girls are faced with the great responsibility of keeping up the school spirit at football and basketball games. With their snappy cheers and gay new uniforms, they add enthusiasm and spirit to all athletic events.

A valuable part of the band are these spirited twirlers led by Katherine Coburn, head majorette, pictured at right, and Diane Ball, head twirler. With their chic new uniforms, snappy routines, and flashing batons, they add a certain vivacity to the band's performances.

We congratulate you upon the completion of your High School course. Your diploma is a symbol of a wise investment in permanent values - - values that will be a sound foundation for continued growth, wherever you go, whatever you do.

Sometime in the future you will have a need for tools - - for your job, or your hobby, or home repairs. When this time comes, look for the Millers Falls Trademark - - the symbol of permanency of tools. Since 1868 we have constantly searched for better materials, designs, and finishes to give lifetime utility to the tools we manufacture. Given reasonable care, these tools will "season" in use, taking on a character all your own and will be lifetime friends known and proven by the work they perform.

For your choice of a lifetime - - choose Millers Falls.
